SAWNG- STILL IN TOW; ROUGH WEATHER OFF THE AZORES

Aviator Bound for Port of Horta, After Hailing Shore at Another Point, Says Dispatch.

CAME DOWN, OFF HIS COURSE, IN FOG

Four-Continent Pilot Had Hopped Off on Trans-Atlantic Flight From Newfoundland.

By the Associated Press.
LISBON, May 25.—A rough sea today created unfavorable conditions for the towing of Commander de Pinedo's seaplane, which is reported in tow of a sailing schooner bound for this port.

By the Associated Press.
LISBON, May 25.—Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian four-continent flyer, has continued on his journey from the Italian seaplane, according to a dispatch received today from Horta. It was said the schooner towing the plane had another point of the island of Fayal, but proceeded to Horta, where de Pinedo had shouted to those on shore that he needed no assistance.

The Portuguese gunboat, Beira, proceeded to Horta with guns, and will offer aid to de Pinedo.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, May 25.—Lloyds gave out an intercepted release message today from the Italian seaplane, de Pinedo, saying: "The Pinedo seaplane was towed safely into Fayal."

Details still were lacking of the circumstances which brought de Pinedo down near the end of his 10,000-mile jump from Tripessey, N. F., to the Azores, but dispatches said de Pinedo was not injured on landing, and that his plane, the Santa Maria II, was being towed to port.

The dense fog which compelled de Pinedo and his two companions to descend after they had gone considerably off their course, caused the schooner to land on the island today, and atmospheric conditions made radio communication difficult.

Passing Steamer Reports Plane in Tow of Sailing Vessel.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 25.—The Santa Maria II, Commander de Pinedo's plane, was seen in tow of the schooner Infante Vesigues, 100 miles north and long, 100 miles west, or 360 miles southwest of the Azores, by the steamer Cabo Torres, said wireless messages received by the Radio Corporation of America. The vessel was sighted at 12:50 G. M. T. on the 24th, Eastern daylight time.

de Pinedo's course was from Tripessey to the Azores, thence to Portugal and then to Rome. Expectations are that he will resume his flight when his plane is overlanded in the Azores.

de Pinedo left Tripessey early Sunday and was in the Azores the afternoon.

ATTEMPTS TO UNIONIZE SHOPS BARRED BY COURT

Massachusetts Supreme Bench Declares Employers May Enjoin Issuance of "Unfair List" Also

BOSTON, May 25.—The Massachusetts Supreme Court ruled today that the A. T. Stearns Lumber Co. and other manufacturers of building finish are entitled to injunctive relief against members of various building trades unions which sought to unionize their shops. The plaintiffs charged an illegal combination and conspiracy. The case now goes back to the Superior Court for further action.

The acts against which the manufacturers are entitled to injunctions are: Refusal of members of the unions to install non-union-made material; strikes to prevent any employer from purchasing non-union-made material; issuance of an "unfair list"; strikes to compel the hiring of union foremen only; imposition of fines upon union men who are unwilling to join unlawful strikes; and combination to induce employer to sign agreements to purchase union-made material only.

The unions named are the Carpenters' District Council of Boston, the Allied Building Trades Council and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

1 DEAD, 50 HURT AS WIND WRECKS GRAND STAND

Commissioner Landis Present at Portsmouth, Va., Baseball Park When Storm Strikes.

By the Associated Press.
NORFOLK, Va., May 25.—A sudden storm today blew down the grandstand of the Portsmouth baseball park during a game at which Commissioner Landis was the guest of honor.

One man was killed and it was estimated that between 50 and 75 persons were injured. Thirty were taken to a hospital and many others to their homes after receiving emergency treatment.

It is estimated that the wind reached a velocity of 75 miles an hour for a few minutes.

The first blast of the storm unroofed a Norfolk & Western railroad warehouse on the water front near the Union Station here, killing four men and injuring several others.

Commissioner Landis was not hurt.

NEW SHIP, RAMMED ON TRIAL TRIP, CALLS FOR AID

Matson Line Vessel, Mololo, Collides With Norwegian Freighter 6 Miles Off Nantucket Lightship.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 25.—The independent wireless Co. reported that the new steamship Mololo, on a trial trip, had asked assistance after a collision with the steamship Jacob Christensen, about six miles off Nantucket lightship, about 5 p. m. today.

The Jacob Christensen is a Norwegian freighter, which cleared Fowey, England, for Philadelphia, May 10.

The Mololo is a new steamship of 22,000 tons, built for the Matson line for operation in the Pacific between San Francisco and Honolulu. It left Philadelphia May 24 for a trial run off the Massachusetts coast.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—The steamer Mololo has 310 persons aboard including the crew. Among those on board are J. Harry Mall, president of the Cramp Shipbuilding Co., and Vice President John of the Matson Navigation Co.

The ship is in command of Capt. L. B. Tilton, marine superintendent of the Cramps.

KELLY CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER IN KILLING ACTOR

Liability to One to Ten Years in Prison for Beating Raymond to Death With Fists.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 25.—Paul Kelly was convicted of manslaughter today for beating Ray Raymond to death with his fists in Raymond's Hollywood home. The conviction carries a penalty of one to ten years.

Superior Judge Charles Burnell set Tuesday, May 31, as the date for imposing Kelly's sentence. Raymond was an actor and the husband of Dorothy Mackaye, an actress. Kelly went to Raymond's home and attacked him, it was alleged. They had quarreled over Kelly's attentions to Dorothy Mackaye.

The convicted man's counsel served notice that a written motion for a new trial would be made. The motion will come up on the day of sentencing. Kelly, a young motion picture actor, had the verdict outwardly little moved, but with a blanched face. He wore his habitual expression of worry and depression.

The verdict of the eight women and four men was returned within 24 hours after the case had been given to the jury. The decision was arrived at in about eight hours of deliberation.

After returning to the courtroom yesterday for reading of autopsy testimony on the cause of Raymond's death, the jury reported in two to two for a verdict. The deadlock lasted until this morning.

General Weather Conditions. Rains have been general in most of the country east of the Plain States; they were heavy in the Mississippi Valley from St. Louis to Vicksburg. Clearing weather seems to be general this morning, except in the Appalachian Mountain country, where rain is still falling. The temperatures are seasonable, except in the states along the Canadian border, where they continue a little low.

PUBLIC HOLIDAY IN ST. LOUIS TO HONOR LINDBERGH

Mayor Arranging Celebration in Which All Citizens May Have Part on Flyers' Return.

VISITORS TO CITY WILL PARTICIPATE

Proposal Made to Rechristen Lambert-St. Louis Field as Permanent Memorial to Aviator.

Lindbergh Day, when St. Louis' world-famous aviator returns to his home city, will be a public holiday.

Not only will city offices close, but all business concerns will be asked to give their employees an opportunity to welcome the flyer. If Lindbergh returns before the regular closing of the schools, June 17, the Board of Education will be asked to grant pupils a holiday.

Mayor Miller said today that plans would be made for a celebration in which all St. Louisans, and all the visitors who care to come to the city will participate. A Army and Navy aircraft, including probably a large dirigible, are included in the tentative plans for the public celebration. It is intended to raise a fund of $15,000 to $25,000 for the reception expenses.

Going to England Monday. While the time of Lindbergh's return here is still indefinite, he will not be on the Continent much longer. He called to Knight yesterday.

"Desire to inspect aeronautical industry here before returning. Arrive England Monday."

As has been determined previously, a parade over a long route, in which Lindbergh's plane, "Spirit of St. Louis," will be carried on a truck, will give the public his chief opportunity to see the hero of the trans-Atlantic flight. Other suggestions, depending in part on the time of day when the flyer arrives, have been made.

Guard to Be in Charge of Dinner. There is to be some sort of dinner, to take the place of the one which was planned for Lindbergh on his stop here week before last, but which, because of his haste to fly to New York and be ready for his big jump, he did not wait for.

That was to be a dinner of the Thirty-fifth Division air unit, and the National Guard outfit will be in command of the dinner.

Whether it is limited to the Guard or is open to others.

Harry H. Knight, president of the St. Louis Flying Club, and Harold M. Dixie, president of the Board of Commerce, talked to the Mayor yesterday of their plan to purchase of Lambert-St. Louis Field by the city, for permanent use as a municipal flying field, and in present held under lease, and the price at which it was last offered was $60,000.

The Mayor said he did not know where the city could get funds for the purchase of the field, but he would not consider it possible. But the Mayor said he liked the idea, and would not reject it at this time.

It has been proposed that the Board of Commerce name the new High School Stadium, Kingshighway and San Francisco avenue, Lindbergh Stadium. Members of the board, in reply to this suggestion, mentioned the rule, which applies to school buildings, that no name of a living person shall be given to a building. The stadium, they said, might not be classed strictly as a school building, but the same principle would appear to apply.

Several of the board members said the board would wish to honor Lindbergh in some official way. There has been discussion, in the last few months, of naming the stadium after Stephen M. Wagner, who as a member of the board was active in advocating the plan. To name the stadium for either Wagner or Lindbergh would be a disregard of the rule applying to school-building names.

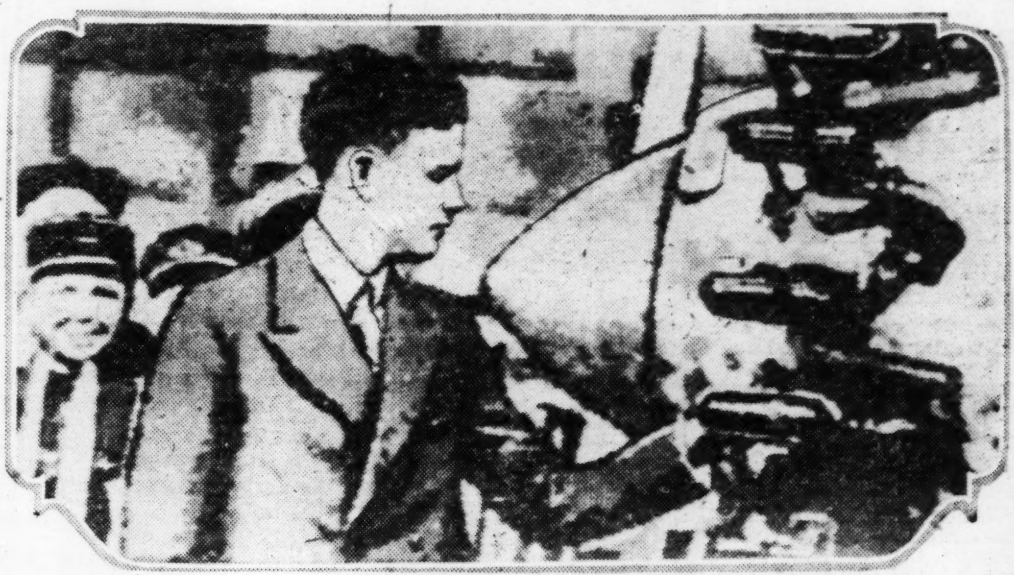

Free use of the St. Louis Theater for a public reception to Capt. Lindbergh has been offered by Everett H. Hays, manager of the theater.

Capt. Lindbergh today was elected the first honorary member of the American Business Club, at its weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Statler. A resolution of congratulation was adopted, calling Lindbergh "an excellent example of the 'Spirit of St. Louis' typified in St. Louis' young manhood."

$35,000 FOR NON-STOP FLIGHTS TO HAWAII

Honolulu Merchant Offers $25,000 for First Flyer From America.

By the Associated Press.
HONOLULU, May 25.—The Star-Bulletin, in a copyright article, announced today that James D. Doie, president of the Hawaiian Pineapple Co., has offered a purse of $25,000 to the first aviator and $10,000 to the second flyer to make non-stop flights from the Pacific coast to Hawaii during the 12 months starting August 15.

Doie was quoted as being anxious to have Capt. Charles Lindbergh compete, but if the New York-Paris flyer does not desire to enter, the offer may be made effective sooner.

The only attempt to span the Pacific by air from the West coast to Honolulu was made on Aug. 31, 1925, when two navy planes in command of Commander John Rodgers left San Francisco. One was forced down at the 300-mile mark, but that in which Rodgers flew reached a point about 160 miles from the islands when his gasoline supply gave out. Rodgers and his crew were rescued after drifting for nine days.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Charles A. Levine, chairman of the Columbia Aircraft Corporation and backer of Clarence D. Chamberlin's abandoned flight to Paris said today he would back Chamberlin in an attempt to win the $25,000 James D. Doie prize for a flight to Hawaii.

LOREE TO PRESENT RAIL MERGER IN A NEW FORM

Calls on Coolidge. Then Confers with Interstate Commerce Commission on Proposal.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—A revised plan for merger of Southwestern railroads will be presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission within 10 days. L. F. Loree, head of the railroad group involved, announced today.

The new plan for consolidating the Kansas City Southern, Missouri-Kansas-Texas and Cotton Belt railroads will have a new financial setup.

The plan would be virtually the same as originally presented to the commission, Loree said. The commission disapproved the original proposal.

Loree called at the White House today but declined to discuss the nature of his conversation with President Coolidge. Later he went to a conference at the Interstate Commerce Commission, with a view to whipping into shape his new merger proposal.

EVERGLADES AT MIAMI AFIRE

100 Square Miles Burned as Flames

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., May 25.—Fire early today had burned over an estimated 100 square miles of the burned-over area, and the outskirts of Miami, the country club estates and Hialeah.

Preparations were being made to keep the spreading flames from a 30,000-acre section between the burned-over area and the outskirts of Miami, the country club estates and Hialeah.

Here's What Flyer Said When He Landed, "I'm Charles Lindbergh"

By the Associated Press.

EXACTLY what Capt. Lindbergh's first words were on landing at Le Bourget in Paris. According to some, he said: "Here I am, I have done it," while others insist he said: "Is this Paris?" But an eye-witness declares he simply remarked: "I am Charles Lindbergh," and this is confirmed by the flyer himself.

Stephane Lauzanne, managing editor of the Matin, wanted to clear up the matter, so he asked the aviator personally, "Is it true that you said 'I am Charles Lindbergh'?"

"Yes, that's what I said," was the answer.

"But why?" the editor asked. "I was afraid they might think I was somebody else," Lindbergh replied.

"All the same," M. Lauzanne observed, "there were not so many people expected at Le Bourget from across the Atlantic. But Lindbergh is an unaffected hero."

FLIGHT BROUGHT NATIONS' IDEAS CLOSER, POPE SAYS

Lindbergh's Flight Aided to Modern Communication Means, Pontiff Tells Cardinals.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, May 25.—Pope Pius considers the transatlantic flight of Capt. Lindbergh has contributed much to the transmission of thought between peoples and added greatly to the modern world's facilities of communication. He made this known in a speech at a Vatican ceremony yesterday commemorating the third centennial of the foundation of the Congregation for the Propagation of Faith.

He referred also to the religious situation in Mexico and in China. As for Mexico, he said, "It is the suffering of persecution has earned the right to be cited in the order of the glory of the church and civilization." The agitation in China, he declared, did not come from within, as the people were "good, profoundly good."

Yesterday's ceremony was attended by all the Cardinals present in Rome and bishops who came especially from all parts of the world.

MEXICAN GOVERNOR'S WIFE SHOTS RIVAL AND MOTHER

Then Telegraphed Husband About It

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, May 25.—In a jealous rage, Senora Magdalena de Ramirez, wife of the Governor of Jalisco, shot and perhaps mortally wounded Senora Emma Degrain yesterday and also shot her mother, then telegraphed to her husband at Guadalajara that she had shot his sweetheart.

Police said that Senora Ramirez told them she had long pleaded with her husband to forget his infatuation for the girl, but in vain. Then she came to Mexico City and waited in front of the Bogarin house with a pistol and shot her rival when she appeared.

Police have detained the Governor's wife pending investigation.

PAYNE WHITNEY DIES AT MANHASSET, N. Y.

Brother of Harry Payne Whitney Stricken With Indigestion When Playing Tennis.

By the Associated Press.
MANHASSET, N. Y., May 25.—Stricken with heart disease when playing tennis on the courts of Groenroos, his country estate, Payne Whitney, 52 years old, financier, sportsman and member of an old New York family, died today.

He was a brother of Harry Payne Whitney and a son of the late William C. Whitney, who was Secretary of the Navy in the Cabinet of Grover Cleveland.

Payne Whitney was a director of the First National Bank of the Great Northern Paper Co. and of the Westchester Racing Association.

Mr. Whitney was a graduate of Yale in the class of 1898. In 1902 he married Helen Hay, daughter of the late Secretary of State John Hay. He was vice president of the Whitney Realty Co., Northern Finance Corporation, trustee of the United States Trust Co., vice president of the Society of New York Hospitals, trustee of the New York Library and the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

At the Belmont Race Track this afternoon Harry Payne Whitney scratched two horses in the Withers stakes, Valorous and Whisker. He later the winner of the Kentucky Derby. All the entries of the Groenroos stables, owned by Mrs. Payne Whitney, also were scratched and the flag was placed at half staff.

Estimates of the Whitney fortune range from $1,000,000 to $400,000,000. In 1924 he paid an income tax of more than $2,000,000.

AVIATOR REPLIES IN BRIEF SPEECH

Sounds of Applause Greet References to Franklin and Frenchman Who First Crossed Channel.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 25.—Charles Lindbergh, "the new ambassador of America," was introduced to the French Chamber of Deputies today by Myron T. Herrick, "the temporarily retiring ambassador."

The American aviator received a tremendous ovation from the crowded chamber.

The reception was the most impressive formal function this far of the American aviator's triumphant stay in Paris.

Fernand Bouillon, president of the Chamber of Deputies, at whose side stood Vice Presidents Pate and Lafont, greeted the birdman officially, while below the dais stood Gen. Giroud, president of the aviation group, Deputy Colonel Picot, head of the group of war mutilated, known as the "Broken Mugs," and almost the entire membership of the chamber.

"All of us acclaim you," M. Bouillon told Lindbergh, "and all of us pay tribute to the illustrious aviator first to cross the Atlantic, alone and whose valor is equalled only by his modesty."

The transatlantic flight, M. Bouillon continued, aroused the greatest enthusiasm of all France. "If you had flown over the departments, over our cities and our villages, your welcome would have been the same as here."

Lindbergh's words had, speaking for Capt. Lindbergh, expressed the aviator's thanks for the royal welcome which had been accorded him.

Then Capt. Lindbergh proved himself as facile at speaking as at flying, and in one of his customary brief addresses endeavored himself to reply to the great ovation which welcomed the President's aviator to welcome him.

"When Franklin came over here 150 years ago," the aviator said, "somebody asked him 'what good is a trial balloon?' His reply was: 'What good is a newborn baby?' When Bleriot crossed the Channel in 1909 people asked: 'What good did it do to cross the Channel?' In the same way people today are asking, 'What good has it done to cross the Atlantic?' I hope it will produce the greatest good, not only for the great spirit of friendship between the two countries, but also in future actual and regular communications across the Atlantic by air."

Lindbergh's words had to be translated for his listeners, but they were greeted with rounds and rounds of applause as the dignified legislators pressed forward to shake his hand and assure him of their admiration.

Once more the American aviator then touched lips to the traditional champagne, "wine of honor," while he was toasted enthusiastically. Outside a huge crowd gathered and cheered him as he left the Palais Bourbon in Ambassador Herrick's automobile, en route to the American embassy.

Luncheon With Bleriot. Lindbergh had luncheon today with Louis Bleriot, the first man to fly over sea water. Lindbergh crossed the Atlantic in 23 hours and one half and his companion at luncheon, Bleriot, 18 years ago flew over the English channel in 15 minutes with a motor that had never run more than 15 minutes without stopping.

It was a distinguished company that Bleriot had assembled to do honor to the American aviator. One of the most interesting there was Charles Fontaine, who was the first to greet Bleriot when he landed in England after his flight without stopping.

Among those who attended the luncheon were Paul Painleve, minister of war; Maurice Bokanowski, former minister of the navy and now minister of public works; Louis Barthou, minister of justice; Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

By ARNO DOSCH-ELLEUROT,
Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

PARIS, May 25.—The French army had its turn yesterday in the universal competition for showing admiration to Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh. This third day in Paris since alighting at Le Bourget last Saturday night from his non-stop flight from New York found all of Paris still struggling to get a glimpse of him, but the army and only a few thousands of others had most of the luck.

Among the others was a black haired little French woman who gave the aviator his first kiss—no counting those from the President and other men—in France.

After having ridden from Paris to Le Bourget along a road lined by admirers and guards, Lindbergh suddenly came upon an unexpected scene at the flying field. It was unprecedented as other events of his reception in France have been unprecedented. It was something which heretofore France has done only for rulers of nations or for victorious generals.

Colors Dipped in His Honor.

As Lindbergh drove through the gates of the military section of the field in company with Ambassador Herrick, he was surrounded by soldiers and when the aviator alighted from his automobile he found himself in the center of an entire regiment standing at attention with fixed bayonets.

There were seconds of silence then while the colors of the regiment were slowly dipped. Pale with emotion and looking more boyish than ever as he stood bareheaded in the midst of such imposing ranks, Lindbergh heard nothing but the roar of squadrons of airplanes above breaking the silence which was observed by everyone on the field and the crowd that looked on from the outside. The airplanes made a buzz that was singularly appropriate for honoring this man. Then the regimental band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner."

"The Marseillaise" came next, and after its last notes Lindbergh seemed more moved than at any previous time during his stay in Paris. He dashed tears from his eyes as he turned to the Colonel with a simple gesture of thanks.

"It is too much for me," he murmured.

See Scores of Army Planes.

Through lines of troops he was guided to the military hangars while his attention was divided almost frantically between the aerobatic stunts being done in the air by some of France's cleverest and boldest pilots and the scores of army planes ranged in lines.

At the buffet champagne was opened and Lindbergh put his lips to a cup to recognize the hospitality of the occasion, but did not drink.

It was then that Lindbergh was kissed. A young woman stepped up to him and asked him point blank for a kiss. He blushed and said something or other which his admirer was not backward in taking as a "Yes," and she placed her arms around him and gave him the carousal.

Later he was taken to see all the new models of French airplanes, including the latest pursuit plane carrying two machine guns. In this latter plane Lindbergh showed predilection of interest. He climbed into it, moved the controls and speculated on how it would behave in the air. He asked innumerable questions.

Commandant Weysser, one of those who rescued Lindbergh from the crowd on the night of his arrival, invited him to come to the field alone some day and inspect the entire assortment of machines. His invitation did not need to be spoken twice.

A Clever Landing.

Out on the field again, Lindbergh was told to pick the spot on which he would like to see an airplane and having marked it, saw Sgt. D. Royce, the most clever pilot in the regiment, land from altitude on the exact spot. It was an unusually difficult feat, and Lindbergh showed appreciation accordingly.

When the Sergeant came up to Lindbergh after the smart landing and received the latter's compliments he honored the American again by an imitation of the bush that Lindbergh has by now made famous in Paris.

The attitude of the French officers was something for study. They were all much older in years than Lindbergh and even more so in appearance. Their patronage was almost paternal in a way and yet there was a striking exhibition of deference. It produced an odd combination of attitudes.

The officers took Lindbergh to the camp bed in the hangar where he rested a few minutes after his landing Saturday night and told him that a commemorative plate would be placed in the room to mark its historical significance.

The departure from Le Bourget was as ceremonious as the arrival. The troops again stood at attention while the band again played the American and French national anthems. No greater honor could be paid to any man.

After these recognitions it is still to come the tremendous homage which the city of Paris will give officially tomorrow, when the Great Gates Ceremony of the City will be held.

That Lindbergh is an anti-state envoy flying over Europe is an idea that is taking shape, as invitations to him come from the rulers of all countries. His exploit has aroused such enthusiasm here that it has washed away all accumulated feelings following the long debt discussion and the crash of the franc after the signing of the Mellon-Borah agreement.

This lanky boy whose figure is like that of his Uncle Sam is rapidly replacing the latter in the minds of Europeans as typifying the United States.

America and Its Heroes.

The hateful image of money which has been associated with Uncle Sam does not cling to Lindbergh, and hence anti-American feeling is fading. It was only Lindbergh's miraculous arrival which turned thoughts from America and its money back to America and its heroes.

When the youthful flyer goes to Brussels Saturday, at the invitation of King Albert, this same lively admiration is expected to spread unabated. In England, he will be given a reception which considering the fact that he has not had a natural pose, his winning smile and quickness of wit will win Belgians and Britons, as they have the French, among whom his popularity spreads daily.

The admiration for this tall, slender figure has reached incredible heights. As he wishes, he flies to Sweden, Germany, Italy and Spain, he will undoubtedly have a series of triumphs, and by the time he has flown back to Paris and starts home, he is expected to prove the most wonderful ambassador America ever has sent.

"The Spirit of St. Louis" is not yet repaired, but its damage is confined to some minor tears of the tail surface made by the crowd at Le Bourget which greeted "the young aviator Saturday night. It can easily be repaired for Lindbergh's taking the air Saturday to fly around and gratify the Parisians and then fly to Brussels.

ALBERT E. WOOD, NEW YORK

NEWSPAPER MAN, DIES

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Albert Emery Wood, 70 years old, well-known newspaper man of this city, died last Monday evening in the Methodist Episcopal Hospital.

Mr. Wood had served the New York World in various editorial capacities for 22 years. Last September he was struck by an automobile and his left leg was broken. After a long convalescence he secured a second accident, April 23, when he was knocked down by a trolley car from which he had alighted.

In 1882 Dr. John B. Wood, who had attained fame on the Sun, went to St. Louis to edit the Evening Chronicle, taking along Albert E. Wood as a reporter. The following year Mr. Wood again came to St. Louis as a reporter. Mr. Wood came to the World in 1892 as a reporter.

French Chamber Pays Tribute to Lindbergh

Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, and his son, Pamela Herrick, and his wife, the American naval attaché Capt. Richard White General Grouard, a military aviator, Marquis de Rochefort and many great French aviators including Pelletier d'Oisy, Bossoutrot, Weiss and many other technical men such as Louis Breguet, Louis Renault and Birkbe, Nieuport.

Lindbergh was given the usual cheering reception by the crowd when his motor car drew up at the Ambassador Herrick's dock. Jack Becking, vigorous chairman of the Chamber of Deputies, was the first to greet him.

During the entire luncheon hour the crowd kept accumulating so that by 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon nearly 1000 persons were gathered around the car. It was a magnificent demonstration of a sight of the hero. So insistent were his admirers that the American aviator consented to go to the balcony on the fifth floor where Herrick has his apartment. He was accompanied by Herrick, Ministers Painleve and Bartholin and others.

His appearance was a signal for a wild demonstration. The crowd and guests were in high good humor and a factious Frenchman drew a pistol and pointed it at Lindbergh, who was standing on the balcony. He shouted: "Vive l'Américain, vive Bartholin."

The members of the cabinet retired, leaving the crowd and the women in the street, leaving Lindbergh to himself.

A little later the entire company went into the garden to be photographed in every possible grouping. M. Painleve modestly withdrew from one of the poses, but Lindbergh, seeing him shrink away, grabbed him with a long arm and hauled him into the group just as the shutter clicked.

The aviator wore the same gray suit which he wore yesterday, a gray black knitted tie and the "high valley" shoes which he was forced to buy yesterday when none other of the samples sent him would fit.

One of the youngest aspirants to flying honors—Bieret's 6-year-old son—met Lindbergh at the luncheon.

"Bravo, Monsieur Lindbergh," said Bieret Jr. "You have let little to be done, but there is the Pacific to cross and I am going to do it."

Another youngster, this boy but five years old, descended from an upper story of the building on the chance of grasping the aviator's hand and of getting his autograph, and evidently practiced his little speech in English for he said with a devoted French accent: "Bully for you, Monsieur Lindbergh."

Although getting somewhat tired of signing his name, the American aviator could not resist the boy's appeal for an autograph.

Bieret senior, toasting Captain Lindbergh, ended by presenting him what was described as an insignificant piece of wood, but as a fragment which was very dear to the speaker. It was part of the propeller of the monoplane with which the pilot made his famous crossing from Calais to Dover in 1909.

An Anglo-French Bridge.

Lindbergh replied that he was sorry that he had nothing of importance to give in exchange to the young man, but that he hoped just the same to find some memento with which to present him.

"Will the most glorious and most wonderful aviator of the world accept from the oldest pilot of the Old World an expression of boundless admiration for the bridge between America and France?" Bieret said in his toast. The French aviator recalled that it was in the same type of machine and with the same type of motor as the "Spirit of St. Louis" that he made his crossing of the Channel and had the joy to reunite the two countries.

speaking the same language as those united by Capt. Lindbergh's flight.

These nations, thus brought together, he added, "live forevermore as affectionate sisters and that bond, which you, my dear Lindbergh, have just traced, between them be so strong that they shall understand each other better and better forevermore."

Cannot Forget France.

Mentioning the various honors which have been showered on Capt. Lindbergh by France, Bieret continued:

"You have received enough honors and mementos to prevent your ever forgetting France. In order that you may keep in the development of a propeller—the symbol of the English Channel—please accept it in memory of the day your noble heart prompted you to reserve for me."

Lindbergh's gaze more than a public speaker with experience. His regret that he had nothing important to give in return greatly amused the statesmen, industrial leaders and aviators who are not accustomed to so much modesty in men who have come into the public eye.

A media commemorative of Capt. Lindbergh's New York to Paris flight will be struck in the French mint. The director of the mint has written to Ambassador Herrick asking for a photograph of the American aviator as soon as possible so that the medal can be struck before the captain leaves Europe.

Lindbergh today also will receive the honorary diploma of the Higher Normal School, one of the greatest educational institutions in France.

His class lists are a roll of honor of all that is greatest in the French literary, scientific and political world of the past century. The directors of the school feel that never was a diploma, although an honorary one, better earned than by Lindbergh's "thrust in the conquest of the Atlantic."

Lindbergh missed a lot of cheers this morning by not being in the vicinity of the Normal School. It was announced in the newspapers that the aviator would be given an honorary diploma in the early forenoon. A great crowd was there, but Lindbergh was not there.

Neither was the school committee. The streets around the old institution were filled with bare-headed boys and girls, men and women, and dignified old professors from many nearby universities. They shouted their admiration for the American, and finally the embarrassed school authorities had to break the truth to the disappointed crowd—that Lindbergh was to get the diploma, but that the ceremony was to take place at the embassy.

Inspects French Machines.

Lindbergh's car was taken to Le Bourget field to examine his airplane. He did some work on it. After this pleasurable toil was concluded he was accompanied by Marshal Foch, the American naval attaché, and the aid to Commandant Renouveau of Le Bourget field, in a minute inspection of the machine.

Lindbergh Can Have MONOPLANE, "SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS," FOR OWN USE

CAPT. LINDBERGH is to keep his transatlantic monoplane, the "Spirit of St. Louis," for his own use to fly when and where he pleases.

Major Albert Bond Lambert, one of his financial backers, announced today.

To persuade Lindbergh to make St. Louis his home and a base for his flights, however, Lambert urged that a fund be raised to erect a "Lindbergh Memorial" at Lambert-St. Louis field in the form of a steel hangar and machine shop where the pilot could house his plane and carry on his aviation experiments.

After the "Spirit of St. Louis" has outlived its usefulness for flying, Lambert said, it is probable it will be offered either to the Smithsonian Institution or the Missouri Historical Society.

American Embassy. For the first time during his visit, he was accompanied by Ambassador Herrick. He pleaded with newspaper men to let him alone. He was escorted on the quick automobile run to Bourget only by a few members of the embassy staff and Captain White, naval attaché.

When he got in sight of the magnificent landing field, Lindbergh of his own initiative avoided the crowd that had gathered by dodging the ordinary gate and placidly vaulting the high wire fence protecting the machine.

Denning an oil can, the aviator entered the cockpit and took the hood off the motor. He did not start the motor, however, contenting himself with a cursory survey. "Well, everything looks all right," he said.

Congratulations Cable to Flyer From Mexico City.

MEXICO CITY, May 25.—James R. Sheffield, the American Ambassador, in behalf of the City of Buffalo, has cabled congratulations to Capt. Lindbergh.

Gen. Jose Amozaca, chief of the Army Air Service, also sent, best wishes to the first man to hop from New York to Paris.

Diamond Medal for Lindbergh.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 25.—A gold medal set with diamonds will be presented by the City of Buffalo to Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, successful transatlantic flyer, it was decided at a meeting of the City Council today. The cost of the medal will be met from funds appropriated for the municipal airport.

Another Lindbergh Field

CHICAGO, May 25.—A flying field here today was named in honor of Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh in commemorating his historic New York-Paris flight. The field adjoins the Maywood airport. Lindbergh has taken off and landed many times in carrying the mails.

The Cook County Board of Commissioners today adopted a resolution naming the field the Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh flying field of Cook County. This field, part of a county forest preserve district, recently was donated to State purposes for military aviation.

OFFERS TO PAY FEDERAL TAX

ON LINDBERGH PRIZE MONEY

Texas Capitalists Act "So Kid Can Have Every Cent of It"

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., May 25.—While friends in Washington were trying Tuesday to get Congress to remit to Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh the tax on his $25,000 prize for the Paris flight, William E. Eastwood, Jr., Texas capitalist, was taking a more direct route to the same end.

In a cable to Lindbergh, Eastwood offered to pay the tax so that "the kid can have every cent of the prize money."

EARTH INDUCTOR COMPASS

INVENTED FIVE YEARS AGO

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The earth inductor compass, the ability to keep on the course he had planned for his New York-Paris flight, was invented five years ago by Morris M. Titterton, chief engineer of the Pioneer Instrument Co., of Brooklyn.

Unlike the magnetic compass, the earth conductor compass is not attached to a plane near the motors. It is placed on the tail. So placed it suffers less from the influence of the earth's magnetic field, just as the magnetic compass. It consists of an armature, which revolves in the wind. When the plane deviates from its set course, brushes on the armature, set for due north and south, pick up a current generated in the armature and the current is carried by wire to the instrument board before the pilot, registering any deviation.

FLYER SOLVES FAMILY ROW

By the Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 25.—When Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh conquered the Atlantic, he furnished a solution for a family difference over choice of a name for a Hunington boy.

A letter received from Robert E. Jones admitted a name for his 2-month-old son should have been chosen long ago, but added no name seemed good enough. Names selected by the mother did not suit the rest of the family. The father's choice did not please the mother.

"We just could not agree," said the letter, "until Sunday when we received the news of the aviator flying from America to Paris. It struck me that there was a name good enough for anybody, and I said 'We will name him Charles Lindbergh Jones,' and right away the thing was settled and everybody was pleased."

The jury consisted of nine women and three men. Judge Carlton Hardy had instructed the jury that, under California law, where three or more persons are assembled and engaged in an unlawful act, if one member of the assembly is killed, all members of the group are responsible equally for the killing. The fact that the members of the party were intoxicated was not an excuse, the court instructed.

Will Be Sentenced Friday.

Sentence will be pronounced next Friday.

The trial of the quintet, each member of which attempted to throw the blame for the shooting on another, was unusual in that defense attorneys, through cross-examination, conducted almost wholly the prosecution's case.

When the time came for summing up by the State, the prosecution made an attempt to fix the blame on any one person, but asked that all five be convicted.

Kerrick was shot to death early in the morning of April 9 in his Hollywood flat. Widely varying stories of how and who fired the shot were told by the defendants.

Miss Davis declared after her arrest and again on the witness stand that the widow of the film "two-gang" Westerner had killed her husband in a rage when he accepted a drink of liquor from the hand of Miss Burns, rather than the cup of coffee proffered by his wife.

Accident, Wife Testified.

Miss Burns testified she was at the flat at the time of the shooting and presented, through a man friend on the witness stand, an alibi showing that she had kept an appointment at her apartment prior to the shooting and had remained there all night.

Mrs. Kerrick testified the shooting was accidental, that the revolver which followed attempts by several members of the party to possess it after it had been fired, Kerrick had engaged in a quarrel.

In his arguments to the jury, counsel for Mrs. Kerrick, trying to prove her story of accidental shooting, declared Kerrick was the victim of a "wife of gin, flum and flum."

MRS. KERRICK AND

FOUR CONVICTED

OF MANSLAUGHTER

Jury in Movie Actor Killing

Says Hollywood's Wild

Parties and Fatal Shootings Should Be Stopped.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 25.—The fight of Lita Grey Chaplin to get before the public her story of her life as the wife of Charles Chaplin, and the film comedian's determination to prevent the airing of her sensational charges threatened today to engulf the names of seven women, four of them "prominent" film actresses, in the divorce fight.

Such was the result of developments in the proceedings yesterday, when Mrs. Chaplin refused to answer questions in a deposition in the case after reporters had been barred from the hearing at which she had appeared.

Meanwhile, Superior Judge E. F. Hahn overruled a demurrer filed by Chaplin in an attempt to have the case thrown out of court. He also denied Chaplin's motion to strike from his wife's petition some of the more sensational charges. Chaplin now has only 10 days in which to answer the charges or lose the suit by default, unless further legal tactics are successfully employed.

Closed Session Issue Touched.

The threat to make public the names of the seven women was widened by Lyndel L. Young, Mrs. Chaplin's attorney, after the comedian's wife appeared in answer to a subpoena for a deposition by her. Her attorney insisted the taking of the deposition be open to newspaper representatives, while the comedian's counsel demanded a closed session.

The hearing broke up when Mrs. Chaplin asked for one question, as a matter of record, refused to answer it. The taking of the deposition then was postponed a week. The presiding judge of the Superior Court will be asked to decide whether the deposition shall be taken publicly or privately. Young declared that if the deposition were taken publicly, he would ask Mrs. Chaplin to name the seven women. If taken privately, Young said, he would ask that it be made a matter of public record immediately.

Comedian Must Pay Guards.

The film comedian took a financial reverse when the Superior Court ruled that he must pay $2500 for his private detective at his Beverly Hills mansion and Hollywood studios and an additional $2000 as premium on the receiver's bond.

Gavin McNab, chief of Chaplin's private detective agency, following the breaking up of the deposition hearing, characterized Mrs. Chaplin as "a stammering fool."

SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 25.—Lieut. Walter J. Ligon, reserve officer, and Ivan L. Hall, student aviator, were killed at Clover Field today when the wings of their airplane collapsed at an altitude of 2000 feet as the ship came out of a loop.

Eye witnesses said the plane had been up about an hour and had flown through a series of loops. The wings collapsed and the plane hurtled to the ground.

Aviators on the field expressed the belief that the wings on the wings had snapped under the strain. The plane was privately owned. Both Ligon and Hall lived in Los Angeles.

ULSTER PREMIER JOINS LORDS

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 25.—Viscount Craigavon, formerly Sir James Craig, now is not only the Premier of Ulster, but a full-fledged member of the British House of Lords.

Recently elevated to the peerage, he was introduced to the upper house of Parliament and took the oath this afternoon, with Viscount Charlesmont and Viscount Bangor as sponsors. Premier Baldwin and other members of the Cabinet watched the brief ceremony, which was unique in that it marked the first time the House of Lords has acquired as a member the Premier of another section of the empire.

FOR INCOME TAX IN ILLINOIS

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 25.—Subject to a referendum of the people, the State Senate today voted to place a tax on personal incomes on all residents of Illinois. The vote was 39 to 17.

The bill now goes to the House where a similar bill was killed in committee. The House, however, did not carry the referendum provision.

The bill places a tax of one per cent on incomes up to $5000; two per cent on incomes up to $10,000 and three per cent above $10,000.

TEAR GAS USED TO

CAPTURE MAN IN

TWO-HOUR SIEGE

Ex-Soldier at Mascoutah,

Ill., Wounded by Officers

He Defied After Shooting

Brother-in-Law.

By the Associated Press.

MASCOUTAH, Ill., May 25.—After shooting and seriously wounding his brother-in-law shortly before noon today, Harry Jones, former regular army soldier, barricaded himself in his home at Mascoutah, Ill., for two hours until deputy sheriffs from Belleville forced him out with tear gas bombs. He was shot in the left leg as he tried to run away.

The brother-in-law, John Forcace, who lives next door, was shot twice in the abdomen. Both are now at St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Belleville.

According to neighbors, Forcace who was helping his wife clean house, had laid a feather bed on a lawn swing on Press's side of the yard. Press told him to remove it and he refused. Press obtained a revolver and fired three shots at Forcace.

Press was alone in the house when deputies slipped up and tossed two tear bombs inside. Press only he ran out a side door with a revolver in his hand and Deputy Sheriff Al Petri fired three shots. He fell and was captured.

Press was retired recently after 20 years in the army. He is 46 years old and unmarried.

HARRIS-SCULLIN SUIT

SENT TO MONROE COUNTY

Case Has Attracted Attention Because of Poisson Charge

Against Widow of Wabash Engineer.

By the Associated Press.

MONROE, La., May 25.—A change of venue from Randolph County to the Circuit Court of Monroe County, has been taken in the case of Mariah Harris and Kate Sullivan against Hetta M. Harris, widow of Jack Harris.

The change of venue was granted on the contention that Circuit Judge A. W. Walker and inhabitants of this county are prejudiced against the plaintiffs have an undue influence on the judge and people of the county.

The plaintiffs are seeking to recover some property left to Hetta Harris by her husband, who died in January. The plaintiffs claim that the widow is not entitled to the property and charge that she poisoned her husband enroute to Galveston, Tex. Kate Sullivan is a sister of Hetta.

The case has attracted considerable attention in North Missouri. Harris was a Wabash engineer. A month following his burial, the body was exhumed and chemists reported finding strychnine in the viscera. No criminal action has been taken.

Kentucky and U. S. Naval John

Fitch Monument.

By the Associated Press.

BARRETTOWN, Ky., May 25.—One hundred and twenty-nine years after his death by his own hand, the Federal and State Governments today formally honored John Fitch, the inventor of the steamboat.

Governor W. J. Fields, in an address at the unveiling of a monument erected by the War Department, said that with the recognition accorded the inventor today, one thing remained to be done. "That is," he said, "to see that history is corrected and that text-books be made to teach that Fitch, rather than Fulton, is credited with this wonderful invention, which has done more than any other to move civilization forward and bring all parts of the globe into actual personal, financial and commercial contact."

ITALY TO TUNNEL MONT BLANC

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, May 25.—The Italian government has taken the first step towards tunneling under Mont Blanc, by accepting a project for the immediate construction of a new railway line, 32 miles long, with a tunnel 8 miles long, from Aosta to St. Didier, at the foot of Mont Blanc.

This line, which will cost $1,500,000, will be eventually extended to Chamion, France and Italy began negotiations in 1910 to pierce Mont Blanc and only this year has an agreement been reached regarding the share of the expenditure. The new line will bring London, Paris, Turin and Milan into contact with Geneva by means of one of the longest tunnels in the world.

ILLINOIS RIVER - AGAIN THREATENS TO BURST BANKS

Likely to Duplicate Inundation of a Month Ago Because of Heavy Rains Along Its Valley.

MISSISSIPPI HERE
NEAR FLOOD STAGE

Weather Bureau Predicts
It Will Reach 30 Feet by Saturday—Meramec Also Rising.

Along with a prediction that the Mississippi River at St. Louis will rise to its flood stage of 30 feet at St. Louis by Saturday, the Weather Bureau today forecast a new flood in the Illinois River, as serious as that of a month ago, when much land and some towns, notably Beardstown, were inundated. Recent rains are responsible.

Rains have fallen throughout the Illinois valley, which will cause a steady rise. The following stages are indicated, but may not be crests because headwaters continue rising: Peru, 23.8 feet Friday; Henry, 15.4 feet Saturday; Peoria, 21.5 Sunday; Havana, 22.0 Monday; Beardstown, 25.9 Tuesday; Pearl, 21.5 Monday. These figures vary only fractionally from the crests attained from April 21 to 27. Flood conditions exist now. The Mississippi here today was 26.5 feet, a rise of 1.8 in 24 hours, and by tomorrow is likely to be 28.5, but it is not expected to go much above flood level. Its crest in the flood which still prevails in Louisiana and Mississippi was 28.1 feet on April 26. It has been below flood mark since May 2.

Further Rise Forecast.

Alton today had 20.8 feet, six inches above flood, according to Grafton, Ill., at the mouth of the Illinois River, 18.2 feet, or 2 of a foot over flood reading. Hannibal, Mo., had 14.1 feet, or 1.1 above flood, while Keokuk's gauge stood at 14.1 flood mark. The Weather Bureau, predicting a rise in the Mississippi from Louisiana, Mo., to Cape Girardeau, Mo., said the following stages were indicated, although definite crests cannot be forecast today: Grafton, 20 feet on Friday; Alton, 23 on Friday; Chester, Ill., 26 on Sunday.

While the Missouri River will fall slowly from Lexington, Mo., to Booneville, it will rise below there and go to bankful stages between Jefferson City and its mouth. St. Charles had a stage of 23 feet today, two feet below flood, and a rise of 2.2 feet in 4 hours.

Meramec Going Up.

A rise in the Meramec for the next three days is predicted, reaching a crest of 22 feet at Valley Park, which will mean the inundation of some lowlands and the surrounding of some summer cottages by water, although stills will keep the floors of most of these dry.

The Black River, in the southwestern part of the State, will rise above flood stages, reaching about 15 feet at Poplar Bluff, tomorrow. The Grand River, in north central Missouri, and the Osage River, in the southwestern part of the State, will rise, but will not flood.

In 24 Hours 2.17 Inches of Rain Fell in St. Louis.

In the 24-hour period ended at 1 o'clock this morning, 2.17 inches of rain fell in St. Louis. For a time yesterday afternoon and evening, the River des Peres and some St. Louis County creeks were sent out of their banks by the rush of water, too great for these streams and sewers to carry away.

So far this month, with seven days left, there has been 6.54 inches of rain here, compared with a normal fall for the entire month of 4.24 inches.

INQUIRY OF MISSOURI LYNCHING

Special Grand Jury to Take Up Braggadocio Killing.

CARROLL, Mo., May 25.—A special grand jury will investigate the lynching of Will Sherrard, 19 years old, a Negro, at Braggadocio Sunday night. Prosecuting Attorney O. E. Hooker announced.

"We have been unable to learn the names of any members of the mob that killed Sherrard," Hooker said, "but the special grand jury will be in session within a few days and will go into the matter thoroughly. No arrests have been made yet by Sheriff J. Ham Smith."

MRS. CARRIE STIX WEIL DIES

Was Sister of Mrs. Elias Michael, Member of Board of Education.

Mrs. Carrie Stix Weil, a widow, 414 Union boulevard, died last night at Jewish Hospital after a long illness. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Elias Michael, a member of the Board of Education, 4533 Westminster place. The body will be sent to Milwaukee, Wis., for burial.

Mrs. Weil, who was 67 years old, came to St. Louis 14 years ago following the death of her husband in Chicago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Simon and Mrs. Louis Wertheimer of St. Louis, and two sons, Henry Weil of Columbus, O., and Eugene S. Weil Jr., St. Louis.

CONVICTED PARTNERS TESTIFY TO SAVE CREDITORS $371,768

Fuller and McGee Disclose Operations of Bucket Shop Which Failed for $1,800,000.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 25.—Transcripts in the bucket shop of Edward M. Fuller & Co., which failed for $1,800,000, and caused the conviction and sentence of the partners—Edward M. Fuller and William F. McGee, to 15 months in Sing Sing—have been disclosed at a hearing before Referee Lloyd Church.

The hearing was conducted to take testimony in a suit brought by Fuller and McGee against Arnold Rothstein to recover $371,768 for creditors, alleged to have been paid Rothstein in gambling debts. It is expected that when the case comes before the Supreme Court, both Fuller and McGee will have started serving their sentences.

Fuller and McGee pleaded guilty of bucketing in 1923, but stay of execution of sentence was granted to make them available to the United States attorney in giving information in other suits.

BODY TAKEN FROM RIVER

Unidentified. It Is Taken to Kirkwood Morgue; Left Arm Broken.

The body of an unidentified man, taken yesterday from the Mississippi River near Jefferson Barracks, is at Coroner Popp's undertaking parlors in Kirkwood awaiting identification. Coroner Popp said the body had been in the water about six weeks. The man's left arm was broken, but there was no other evidence of foul play. The man was about 60 years old. He was wearing two pairs of trousers and three shirts. Two lower front teeth were missing.

NEW YORK AWARDS LINDBERGH FIRST AMERICAN MEDAL

Gov. Smith Authorizes Bestowal of Badge of Valor
as City Plans Record-Breaking Reception.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 24.—The first official American decoration and the most recent honor conferred upon Capt. Charles Lindbergh was awarded by Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York yesterday when he authorized the award of the Medal for Valor of New York State, "for intrepidity and courage of the highest degree in flying alone and unaided from New York to Paris, in the development of aviation, to the glory of his country and to his own undying fame."

The shouting and the tumult which has not died since Lindbergh departed for Paris will reach its full roar when he returns to New York. On his return home, a reception here, putting to shame welcomes given kings, queens and heroes of other days will be given him.

Although Lindbergh has not decided definitely when he will come back, preparations are being made in many quarters to let him know that the folks at home were with him in spirit as he and "The Spirit of St. Louis" winged their way to Paris. Evidence that millions share with him in the fame he has brought to his country will not be lacking in the reception.

The welcome will be as official as there are officials to make it so.
all branches of the Federal, State and municipal branches having a hand. The record-maker will know of the impending events through shadows cast by airplanes circling over the ship bringing him home.

The opening tribute will be paid by a group of New York National Guardsmen to the Missouri National Guardsmen. The Twenty-seventh Division Air Service will sound the first welcome when a formation of 11 planes will be led down the bay by Maj. George Vaughn, flight commander at Miller Field, Staten Island.

Mother Offered Passage.
Mrs. Evangeline E. Lindbergh, mother of the flyer, has been offered free passage on the White Star Line, to join her son, by P. A.
S. Franklin president of the International Mercantile Co., but it is thought she will be content to meet him in New York, coming here on a special train supplied by the president of the Michigan Central Railroad.

Because of the customary governmental red tape, it is expected
Congress would be unable to award Capt. Lindbergh either the Congressional Medal of Honor or the Distinguished Flying Cross, both being reserved for military exploits. It is probable a special medal will be struck.

Navy Destroyers Offered to Flyer for Journey Home.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—Navy
destroyers were placed at the disposal of Capt. Charles Lindbergh,
New York to Paris flyer, yesterday for his return home and the transportation to his country of his plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis."
This offer was flashed across the sea after a call at the White House by Assistant Secretary Robinson of the Navy, as the President and all Washington continued to admire and make plans for honoring the youthful aviator.

Commander W. W. Galbreath in charge of the destroyer division, was directed by the navy to inform Lindbergh that he could return to his homeland aboard a destroyer and that his plane would be brought back the same way. The division is sailing for America
June 15.

ON SUMMER SCHOOLS*Board to Admit Pupils of Sixth Grade Who Need Extra
Instruction.Children who need summer school work, in order to make them reasonably sure of completing the sixth grade in the coming school year, will be admitted to the summer schools, under a decision reached by the Board of Education at its meeting last night.This broadens the board's previous decision, which was to admit to the summer schools only children who had failed to pass in the regular terms, and children retarded by physical or mental defects.
The board still intends to stop the practice, prevalent in past summers, of using the summer schools as "parking places" for children, as a matter of convenience for parents. The vote taken last night was to the effect that,
in addition to retarded children, the following should be admitted to the summer classes:Pupils attending sixth grade schools, who will have finished at the close of the present semester sixth grade, first quarter, or sixth grade, third quarter.Pupils who will have finished at the close of the present semester eighth grade, first quarter, or eighth grade, third quarter."Those pupils in the intermediate schools who will, as a result of their attending summer schools, acquire sufficient credits to enable them to attend high school at the beginning of the first or the second semester next year.""Those high school pupils who may, as a result of attending summer school, acquire sufficient credits to enable them to graduate from the high schools this summer or next January."BOTH MURDER AND SUICIDE INDICATED IN YOUTH'S DEATH*Physician Says Belleville Boy Died Before Striking Water. But Note Is Contradictory.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., May 25.—Evidence in support of both murder and suicide theories was obtained yesterday in the case of Otto Berger, 19 years old, formerly of Belleville, Ill., increasing the mystery surrounding the death of the youth, whose body was found Monday in the Detroit River. Police, however, are of the opinion that Berger committed suicide.In support of the murder theory Dr. W. D. Ryan, chief medical examiner for Wayne County, after a post-mortem examination, reported that Berger's death was due to "asphyxiation by strangulation."
The youth's hands and feet were bound with wire and a rope was tied about his neck when his body was taken from the river. Dr.
Ryan said Berger was dead before striking the water.The handwriting of a "suicide" note found on the dock near where the body was found was compared with a specimen of Berger's handwriting and found to be identical, strengthening the police theory of suicide. Berger had been despondent since a quarrel with his sweetheart last December. After the quarrel he defuncted in his results on a wrist watch for his fiancee and it was from a letter he had written the jewelry company that a sample of his handwriting was obtained. He was employed here as a press operator for an electrical concern. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Berger, lives at 1103 Arthur street, Belleville.THREE INJURED WHEN BUS

ON CHURCH COUNCIL*But Southern Assembly Declines to Withdraw From Body, Assailed as "Modernistic."

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 25.—The Federal Council of Churches and Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, its chairman, were assailed as "modernistic" by a minority in the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church in an unsuccessful attempt to have the church withdraw its representation from the council.The assembly defeated the proposition to withdraw from the Federal Council by a vote of 122 to 118.Modernism was characterized by critics of the Federal Council as a poison calculated to destroy the spiritual life of the church. The minority move was supported chiefly by Presbyteries of East and West Hanover in Virginia and led by Dr. H. M. Wood, who has served the denomination 49 years as a missionary in China.Dr. George Sumner of New Orleans and Dr. Ernest Thompson of Charleston, W. Va., the church's representatives on the Federal Council, defended Presbyterian participation in that body. They declared that the church owed a responsibility to the world and its best hope in exerting its force within the council and not from the outside.The poison of modernism in sweeping the world, the assembly was told by Dr. C. P. Nisbet of Kansas City. "But what contribution can a church give toward counteracting its influence by withdrawal from common council?"CONSPIRACY ALLEGED IN*$300,000 CLAIM OVER ESTATE*G. L. Hunsche, Banker, and Others

L. Hunsche, a banker and former president of the Community Estate, Inc., a realty concern; Fred architect, Robert C. and Arthur
P. Jones and their sister, Miss Marion L. Jones, was filed in Circuit Court today by Conrad Paebsen, receiver for the estate and an attorney.Paebesen alleges Hunsche violated an agreement prohibiting him from disposing of 14 lots on Miami street, between Russell place and Gardner avenue, which he held as trustee, by exchanging them without concurrence of the estate, Aug.
9, for the Pershing Galleries Apartments, 5549-59 Pershing avenue, title of which was held by Naumer for himself, Saum and the Jones brothers. The apartments, Paebesen claims, had a $200,000 first mortgage and a bonus $100,000 second mortgage, which was released Jan. 7 in furtherance of a conspiracy to sell the building to the estate for much more than it was worth. Miss Jones is involved because it is averred the Miami street lots were conveyed to her.
Paebesen seeks an accounting.Hunsche, who resigned as president of the estate Jan. 1, denied there was any wrongdoing in the transactions and said Paebesen was a director and vice president of the estate when they were made with the approval of the estate directors and others concerned.
Rents collected from the apartments from August to January were sent to the estate, Hunsche declared, and then at the request of Paebesen title to this property was transferred to the estate.ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE VOTES*2 PCT. RISE ON BUS TAXA bill to increase the present 3-

STINNES' DAUGHTER STARTS ON WORLD TOUR IN AUTO

Chauffeur and Camera Man Accompany Her, Will Reach U. S. in May Next Year.

By the Associated Press. FRANKFURT, Germany, May 23.—Seated at the steering gear of her specially built Adler automobile, Miss Clairenne Stinnes, daughter of the late Hugo Stinnes, industrial magnate, entered upon a motor tour today around the world.

Her present objective is Constantinople by way of the Balkans, whence her itinerary will take her into Persia, Russia, Mongolia and China. She will reach the United States in May next year and will return to Germany by way of Spain and France. The caravan comprises two cars, with a chauffeur and camera man. Her favorite setter is in the party.

Franklin Stinnes held the foremost place among German women automobile drivers in 1926. Her most notable feat being the winning of the South German reliability tour of 1926.

AFTER THE SHAMPOO

to remove dust, dirt and foreign matter from the hair and scalp—the next step is the use of a good stimulating hair tonic to close the pores and increase the circulation.

Newbro's Herpicide

is made especially for this purpose. It also removes dandruff, allays itching and stops falling hair. Does not stain or dye. Just rub Herpicide thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips—then use daily or as needed. You'll Like It

DR. HORTON ON TRIAL AFTER 2-YEAR DELAY

Hearing on Citation Involving Revocation of Physician's License Started.

After two years' delay caused by legal maneuvers, Dr. Ray B. Horton of Purdy and Kansas City today went on trial before the State Board of Health, at Hotel Jefferson, on charges which, if sustained, will result in revocation of his license to practice medicine in Missouri.

Dr. Horton was one of 60 physicians cited by the board in 1925, to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked, as a result of the disclosure of medical diploma frauds. He is accused of submitting fraudulent credits from the Purdy High School, the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons and the Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery when he took his examination for a license.

At the outset of today's hearing, Dr. Horton's lawyer, W. W. Graves Jr., son of the Supreme Court Justice, moved that Dr. James Stewart, secretary of the Board of Health, be disqualified from any part in the trial because of alleged prejudice against the defendant. He said there was no law providing for disqualification, but he appealed for it "in the name of fair play and sportsmanship."

Graves said Dr. Stewart had visited Purdy to discuss the case with witnesses, and had declared: "I'll show how the State stands in this matter." Graves said such conduct made Dr. Stewart a prosecutor as well as a judge.

Replying to this, Dr. Stewart said he was not prejudiced against Dr. Horton, and could give him a fair trial. He explained he had visited Purdy to ascertain whether there was any basis for the prosecution.

Assistant Attorney-General Lovan opposed Graves' motion. It was taken under advisement. Depositions of several former schoolmates, members of the Board of Education and teachers in the Purdy High School were read by Lovan.

The high school certificate, Dr. Horton submitted to the board, purports to show that he attended the Purdy High School from 1912 to 1914. His former schoolmates testified he did not attend the school for four years. Fred Mitchell, postmaster at Purdy, testified the defendant was not a student in the high school while he attended, from 1912 to 1914.

Leslie K. Grimes, superintendent of the high school in 1922, when Horton obtained his credits for submission to the Board of Health, testified the signature, purporting to be his on the document, appearing the defendant had completed a four-year high school course was a forgery.

Members of the Board of Education told of holding a meeting after the investigation of Dr. Horton began, at which they questioned Horton. He told them they testified that he passed special examinations given him by the high school principal at the time to receive his diploma. The witnesses deposed that Dr. Horton failed to deliver proof to them of this, as requested.

300 OPPOSE LINDENWOOD GRATIOT PARK PROJECT

Residents of District Attend Meeting at City Hall to Voice Objections.

About 300 residents of the Lindenwood-Gratiot district attended a hearing at City Hall last night by the Public Welfare Committee of the Board of Aldermen on a bill to repeal the ordinance under which condemnation of a park in that neighborhood has been started.

Most of the spokesmen at the meeting objected to the park, because it would be paid for by assessment of property in a surrounding benefit district. Besides, they thought, sufficient park area is available for their community. The committee will conduct another hearing on June 6. The park site is 2½ acres, bounded by Watson road, Jamieson, Marquette and Pernod avenues. Ninety per cent of the residents oppose the park, said Thomas L. Anderson, an attorney. Two members of the Gratiot-Lindenwood Improvement Association advocated the park and asserted that only 600 out of 300 signatures on a petition of remonstrance were legitimate. The association will present its side of the controversy at a meeting June 7 at the Longfellow School.

SALE OF UNITED RAILWAYS UNDER FORECLOSURE DELAYED

Action Scheduled for Today Under Federal Court Decree Postponed Until Aug. 1.

Sale of the United Railways under foreclosure decree of United States District Judge Paris, which was scheduled for this morning, was postponed until Aug. 1. The action followed information received by William L. Igo, Special Master to conduct the sale, that the St. Louis Public Service Co., the only prospective bidder, was not ready to submit a bid.

The new company, the stock of which is principally owned by the interests represented by the United Railways Reorganization Committee, has not reached a definite agreement with city officials as to the terms of an ordinance for a 30-year franchise which it is preparing to submit either to the Board of Aldermen or to a vote under the initiative at a special election.

Earthquake in Southern Italy.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, May 23.—A strong undulatory earthquake was felt this morning in Naples, Benevento, Avellino and elsewhere in southern Italy. The shock caused considerable alarm but no damage is reported.

Gould-Courville Wedding Postponed.
LONDON, May 25.—The marriage of Edith Kelle Gould, former wife of Frank Jay Gould, to Albert de Courville, London theatrical producer, was not held today as scheduled. It was explained that Mrs. Gould and Mr. de Courville had not taken the precaution of applying for their license Monday, thus allowing one clear day to elapse before the ceremony as required by law. The bridegroom made the application last night, and said today the ceremony would certainly take place tomorrow.

GRANDFATHER OF FLYER IN STRIKING TEST OF PLUCK

He Lost an Arm in Sawmill Accident, Recovered, and Chopped Wood With One Hand.

By the Associated Press.
MINNEAPOLIS, May 25.—Pluck runs in the Lindbergh family. The New York to Paris flier's paternal grandfather, who settled in Minnesota before the Civil War, had his share of it. It is shown in a book in the Minneapolis Public Library.

The book—the 1916 report of the State Horticultural Society—revealed that Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh's grandfather, who came to this State penniless, lost his right arm in an accident, but continued the development of his homestead near Sauk Center, rearing his family in spite of the handicap.

The Rev. C. S. Harrison of York, Neb., journeyed to the horticultural meeting to relate the story. "In 1861, I was living in Sauk Center, where I preached the first sermon," Harrison said. "About ten miles from the city there was a sturdy Swede who was at one time speaker of one branch of the Swedish Parliament and for a while secretary to the King. "He had moved to Minnesota about 1860, and he was poor. "He took up a pre-emption and built a little log house 12 by 16. One day he took a load of logs to the mill and, stumbling, fell on the saw. This caught him in the back, and also took a stab at his right arm.

"It was hot weather and there was no surgeon within 50 miles. I followed him to his home; we did not think he could live. I picked out the sawdust and rags from his wound and kept the mangled arm wrapped and in cold water. "Obtaining a horse from a neighbor and a man to ride him, I sent for the doctor. Though it took the doctor three days to get there, we kept the patient with such care that his cleanly habits and robust constitution carried him through the operation successfully. I helped the doctor, and we took off the arm near his shoulder. "But by the next December, the old hero was out chopping rails with his left hand."

MINISTER IN $50,000 SLANDER SUIT NAMES SIX PERSONS Durand, Ill., Pastor, Also in Politics, Charges Girl's Name Was Linked With His.

By the Associated Press.
ROCKFORD, Ill., May 25.—Alleging malicious and untrue gossip concerning his relations with a Durand girl, the Rev. John A. Logan Warren, pastor of the Durand Methodist Episcopal Church, has filed a suit for $50,000 for slander against six residents of Durand.

Those named as defendants are Supervisor Judd Van Sickle, Albert E. Swinson, president of the Durand Bank, George Best, George Fritz, Sylvia Sedman and Wallace Best. The Rev. Mr. Warren, who was Democratic nominee for Congress at the last general election, recited in his petition that he learned four weeks ago he was being charged by the six defendants with responsibility for the girl's condition. The petition declares she was said to have gone to Methodist authorities in Freeport and made an affidavit she had been attacked by the pastor in his home last fall. He further charges the defendants claimed the girl had gone to his wife and "confessed."

The Rev. Mr. Warren was reappointed to his pastorate after the church conference had investigated the charges.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F. OPENS CONVENTION IN ST. LOUIS
Delegates Attend Memorial Services and Banquet Sessions to Close Tomorrow.

The Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the Patriarchs Militant, and the Rebekah Assembly of Missouri, gathered in annual convention yesterday at the American Hotel with about 150 men and women present. The convention will close tomorrow with the election of officers.

Yesterday the delegates held memorial services for departed members and last night attended a banquet in honor of Elmer Mann, grand master of Odd Fellows; Mrs. Nelle Betts, president of the Rebekah Assembly, and William T. Linn, department commander.

FRENCH MENU CHANGE SOUGHT
Society of Experts Seeks to Reduce Gourmandizing.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 25.—A newly organized society of gastronomic experts has undertaken to reduce French gourmandizing and spread the pleasures of the table more evenly throughout the day. The Frenchman, whose "continental breakfast" is the envy and despair of the visiting Anglo-Saxon, generally eats nothing in the morning but a roll and a cup of coffee. By noon, say members of the new society, he is ravenously hungry, and eats too much. Then, having no tea and waiting for a late dinner, he again eats too much at night.

4000 SEE KAISER

TAKES EIGHT OF 10 ROUNDS IN FAST BOUT

"Punching Paul" Fails to Capture Single Round, Working Best in Third and Fourth.

Battling for 10 rounds before approximately 4000 fight fans at the Coliseum last night, Pecos Kaiser outpointed Paul Steadman for the featherweight championship of the city. Those who expected to see the grudge bout terminate in a knockout were disappointed; but they had no doubt in their minds at the finish that Kaiser was the better boy of the two.

Steadman failed to take a round. His best work was offered in the third and fourth, when he traded blow for blow with Kaiser, mostly to the misdirection, to hold "Pecos" to even terms.

Both men entered the ring under the 126 pounds agreed upon, and Kaiser looked a trifle drawn as compared to his stocky opponent. The bout opened fast, with both boxers displaying willingness to mix it. Kaiser demonstrated a brand of footwork in the early sessions that had "Punching Paul" looking rather awkward, and Kaiser added to the advantage by landing several solid punches to Steadman's stomach, which had a slow-down effect.

Kaiser Too Clever. After the third and fourth round flurried and faded, Kaiser came back to even terms, the bout settled into a display of two different types of battling. Kaiser leading with clever footwork, while Steadman was more cautious and endeavored to get set to land a solid right-hand wallop.

His right would have been poison, had it reached its mark, but Kaiser responded by coming out never let it land full on.

Kaiser was at his best in the seventh, which he took by the widest margin of any stanza in the bout. He reached Steadman's face a half-dozen times with solid lefts to the face that had his opponent listening for the bell.

It was noticeable throughout the round that Kaiser was favoring his right more than at any time in the bout. He never made an attempt to punch with it, using it only to worry Steadman.

A Good Finish. Both boxers were out to swing a victory in the last round, which offered the fans the best of the slugger of the bill. Kaiser traded his left for Steadman's right with both boys intent on outdoing the other in generosity. Kaiser closed his opponent's right eye with one of those left swings, but could not slip over a knockout punch.

The occasion was a success for Kaiser from more than one viewpoint. Kaiser had an arrangement with the promoters whereby he was to receive 30 per cent of the gate and pay Steadman out of his share.

Steadman was paid $400, his guarantee. Kaiser received $550. The total gate was something over $4500.

Mike Brody of Peoria, Ill., outpointed Jimmy Lucas of St. Louis in eight fast rounds of milling in the semifinal. The flyweights battled to fairly even terms for the first three rounds, when the rangy Peoria battler started making the going extremely rough for Lucas with an effective right uppercut.

Lucas came back and took the sixth with a wicked tattoo on Brody's stomach, causing the more enthusiastic of the St. Louis boys' backers to think that Brody might yet tune in on "I wish I was in Peoria," but the enthusiasm was far-fetched. The Peoria battler was too experienced and Lucas' whirlwind attack in the closing round fell short of changing the tide of battle.

Preliminaries Are Short. The first three rounds were even. Brody took the fourth and fifth, Lucas the sixth, Brody the seventh, and the eighth was even.

None of the first three bouts went the full distance. Jack Jenz, aviator, Scott Field, took a nose dive in the second, brought to the canvas by Walter "Red" Holland's left to his stomach. They fought at 135 pounds. Buddy Schlereth, B. A. Club, won over "Wop" Stonum in the fourth on a foul, and Billy Cain was victor over Leo Van Nest in a flyweight event, the bout being stopped in the second.

Harry Durso, 112 pounds, earned the popular decision over Eddie O'Neill, 117 pounds, in eight rounds. Durso did practically all of the leading, carrying the fight to O'Neill throughout. O'Neill, however, landed the cleaner punches.

Going Over.

Dear Sir: Now that Lindbergh has flown from the U. S. A. to Paris and quite a few have "floated and swum" from Los Angeles to Catalina Island also the English Channel, I would like to hear from you through your column what you think about a swimming race across the Atlantic, water wings to be excluded.

Southern Railway, East St. Louis. THE thing can be done there is not the least doubt of it. We've all been asleep and we'll have to snap out of it.

Soon there'll be many a guy going over, Swimming the ocean from Boston to Dover.

The main thing is being sufficiently greasy;

Slap on the grease and the rest will be easy.

To human accomplishment there is no limit.

If you want to go over just fly it or swim it.

To Europe you can fly or swim. According to your notion; Hang your clothes on a hickory limb.

But don't go near the ocean. QUITE SO.

Dear Sir—You might mix this in your Sport Salad. While entertaining the "made in St. Louis" products, don't forget the $4,700,000—A. K. L.

We note the Alphonse refused to defer to Gaston in their recent pitching argument. Politeness ceases on the ball field.

We trust the Charley Lindbergh who went over to Paris with several letters of introductions to friends of Theodore Roosevelt found them all right and doesn't find time hanging heavily on his hands.

In the meantime if he finds himself getting lonesome over there in a strange land he can come back home any time, where he is fairly well known.

Even in the moment of Lindbergh's triumph the "conscience objector" refuses to be suppressed. He's writing to the papers.

The four Hopi Indian runners passed through St. Louis on their way home. They are not hoofing it, however.

At that we doubt that they would be greatly embarrassed if they couldn't raise the car fare home.

What Lindbergh is to the air those Hopis are to the land. Those boys certainly can cover the ground.

QUITE INFORMAL. See where Lindbergh contemplated slipping over to Berlin and London while in the neighborhood. He might also drop in on Mussolini and have breakfast with him some morning before filling a dinner engagement with King George.

After his experience in the Dutch Leonard case one would think that Ty Cobb would be cured of the letter writing habit. Instead the reverse seems to have been the case.

Osmand Coming For the Derby, Widener Wires

According to advices received yesterday from J. E. Widener, owner of Osmand, Chance Shot and other great race horses, he will ship Osmand here for the Fairmount Derby, to be run at the Collinsville course on June 4. Osmand, with Sande up, was beaten a head in the Kentucky Derby. Sande will ride Osmand in the Fairmount Derby.

It is possible that Owner Widener will send Chance Shot after the prize. Chance Shot is reputed to be a greater 3-year-old than Osmand.

Widener is keenly interested in the success of his entry as he won the derby at Fairmount last year with Haste.

Eighteen horses comprising the stable of the Louisville-owned Harrod Brothers, departed from Churchill Downs last night for Fairmount Park. The stable's riders, A. C. Cleland and R. Cheatham, also left for the Collinsville track. The big stable that Lloyd Gen-

HALEY PUTS TOLLEY OUT OF TOURNEY

New Yorker Clinches Match on Last Green by Five; Gets Crowd's Applause.

By the Associated Press. HOYLAKE, England, May 25.—In as breathless a finish as was ever seen in championship play on this famous old golf course, the young American Edwin H. Haley of New York rose to fame today by defeating Cyril Tolley, former title holder and one of the favorites for the 1927 British Amateur Championship which the present tournament will decide. The match went to the last green.

Starting sensationally with a birdie three, Haley had England's great man of golf struggling all the way, but struggling heroically and magnificently, winning holes or getting halves and staving off the victory which seemed certain for the American at the sixteenth.

Haley Comes From Behind. Haley struck a bad patch of golf after winning the difficult third with a fine par four. He lost the fourth, squared the fifth and then dropped three in succession to become two down at the ninth.

Then, as the homeward journey started over the great sandunes skirting the sea, he set himself for the fight which continued until the very last putt, where the big gallery saw him win and heartily applauded him for downing their star.

Beginning with the ninth, all holes were halved with the exception of the thirteenth, fifteenth and eighteenth, all of which went to the American.

Tolley was struggling against one of his spells of erratic play when he was hit by a hole-in-one on the outward trip, and he was repeatedly saved from the bunkers toward which his ball traveled. Then luck deserted him, and he descended into the desert of sand traps on nearly every hole going in.

Meanwhile Haley played steadily, if without brilliancy. After winning the thirteenth where Tolley's most serious bunker affliction began, the fourteenth was secured in five, then the American drew level by taking a par four on the fifteenth, while Tolley missed a holeable putt.

The match seemed to be Haley's at the sixteenth, when he again at the seventh, Tolley visiting one bunker on the former and two on the latter. But the American lost his advantage by losing putts, and from the sand, sank long ones to halve the holes.

Crowd Follows Match. Thus the match was still square at the eighteenth tee, and as word went around the course that Tolley was in danger, the crowds trooped in to see the finish.

Both Tolley and Haley had had lies from their drives. Tolley sent his second over the green into a thistle patch, dangerously near the fence, while Haley's was on the edge of the green.

Tolley played his difficult shot well and the ball came to rest six feet beyond the pit. Haley's chip was four feet from the cup. Tolley studied the line of the putt seriously and lengthily, but missed by an inch. Haley quietly and confidently stepped up and tapped his in.

Haley, hitherto unknown to championship golf either in England or America, has been in England eight months, attending a technical school in London. He entered the tournament from the Sunbridge Park Club.

Roger Wethered Wins. Another likely championship contention here for the Fairmount when R. H. Johnson of the Royal and Ancient Club defeated C. O. Hazlet of the Royal Portrush Club, 5 and 4.

Roger Wethered, the noted British star, kept the running, however, by defeating Ernest Hassall, 3 and 2, after being one down at the turn.

A Jamieson Jr., eliminated E. C. Hutton, 4 and 2, while the young railway workman, William Sutton, of the West Cheshire Artisans defeated Samuel Robinson 3 and 2.

Greatest Economist of Golf Is Chip Shot, Says Bobby Jones

Proficiency in Short Game Saved Walter Hagen in 1921 Western Open and He Went on to Win Title—Player Should Gain Skill With Several Clubs.

NO. 7—CHIP SHOT. By Robt. T. Jones Jr. (National, British and Southern Open Champion.)

It has been said that he who can score well when his game is off color is truly a great golfer. Without attesting to the universal truth of that statement, I will say that few of us who aspire to be known as great golfers possess that happy faculty to any marked degree. With most of us it is a question of being "right" or not if the shots are going properly, or, of course, we score well. When every drive splits the fairway, and every iron shot covers the flag, golf is a simple game. The very low scores come easily. But human frailty does not permit of mechanical perfection in a game like golf. There must be bad days as well as good, and sometimes the bad days come when good days are most desired.

The most remarkable element of Walter Hagen's altogether remarkable golfing make-up, is his ability to score in the low seventies when playing badly.

Walter himself once very modestly said to me that he had to "scrape" his scores by good work around the greens. I would not for worlds be understood as saying that he "scrapes" them all, for I have seen him play at least three rounds—one at Skokie, one at Moor Park, and another at St. Anne's—which were as near flawless perfection as man can reach; but I cannot forget the times when I have seen him "scraping," and I think then I saw him at his greatest.

Short Game Saved Hagen.

THE first time I played with Walter in medal competition was at Oakwood, Cleveland in the Western Open of 1921. I remember very well that throughout the first round I found myself actually commiserating with Walter. Not having any title at that time, he was extremely anxious to win back some of his thunder at Oakwood. His shots were going badly, and I thought he was scoring badly, too; but at the end of the round his total was exactly 70. The next day I wasted some more sympathy. He was 71. From there he struck his real stride, the struggle was over, and he went on to win the championship by four or five strokes.

This marvelous ability to "scrape," as Hagen terms it, is, in my opinion, mainly attributable to extraordinary skill in the shot which C. B. Kessler has so aptly christened "the great economist of golf"—the chip shot.

Resorting for a moment to a consideration of the arithmetical side of a round of golf as played by an expert, we note that the average par card includes not more than 22 putts, often fewer. That means necessarily that on at least four greens only one putt has been needed; and if we could go back and change the figures from "a chip and one putt" to "a chip and two putts," the difference would not be impossible to calculate. In order to score par with 25 putts, every shot must be played exactly as intended. I regret very much to say that I have never seen this done.

Having in past years been a somewhat uncertain performer with the iron clubs, I was forced to give considerable thought and practice to the Great Economist, so that now, while I cannot chip so well as Walter Hagen or Johnny Farrell, I have at least come to regard as feasible the prospect of getting down in two from off the green.

Varied Skill Helps.

TO begin with I should urge most strongly that a player acquire aptitude with several clubs for the purpose of chipping. I have found for myself that one club cannot be made to meet the exigencies of all kinds and lengths of chip shots. I like, except upon extraordinary occasions, to employ the club which will permit me, using a straightforward stroke, to pitch the ball just to the edge of the putting surface. For example, if my ball lay 15 feet off the green, with the hole 50 feet from the edge, I should play a mashie, whereas if the ball lay only three feet off the green, I should use a mashie-iron.

The reason for pitching to the edge of the green is twofold; first, obviously, because the fairway being not so smooth as the putting surface, is more likely to deflect the iron shot; and secondly, because the edge of the green furnishes an excellent target upon which to drop the ball. It is of great assistance in playing the chip to pick out a spot, both for line and range, to shoot for.

A great many players employ successfully what is known as "drag" on the chip. This is done by opening the club face slightly and striking a sharp blow at the bottom of the ball. This is a refinement, however, which adds unnecessarily to the difficulties of this practice must be varied. It may be that in order to pitch to the green it would be necessary to play a very delicate nibble pitch. In that case, especially if the lie is close, it might be wise to resort to a straight-faced iron and run the ball the entire distance. Of course, no general observations can be made to take care of all the vagaries of chipping. The important thing is to know what is wanted. I should say that the sound rule, and the safe one, is to pick out a spot on which to drop the ball and to use the club which will reach the objective, using a straightforward stroke.

Labor Cup Is Greyhound Race Prize Tonight

Billy The Verger, One of Younger Dogs at Madison, Is Favored.

Union labor organizations of the East Side will attend the greyhound races tonight at the Madison Kennel Club. A cup event in their honor occupies feature position on the program.

Bill the Verger will be well supported in this event because of a fast quarter he ran last week. His time of 25.4-5 was only one-fifth slower than Professor's fastest quarter of the meeting. He will run out of the eight box and has a chance to keep clear of a jam at the turn.

This is just one of the many young dogs which have been developed in the last month at Madison Park. Before the meeting ends it is likely that all of the old favorites will be shoved into the background.

The rapid growth of the sport has encouraged many to invest in greyhounds and the list of St. Louis owners is gradually increased.

PROMOTER MULLEN HAS $100,000 INSURANCE ON TUESDAY'S BOUT

CHICAGO, May 25. — Spuz Myers, Pontefino, Idaho, puncher, wants a chance at Mushy Callahan's diamond belt, as well as his junior welterweight championship, when the two meet here for the title next Tuesday.

Myers' manager, Frank Churchill, asked promoter Jim Mullen to demand that the belt go to the winner, but Eddie Sears, the champion's pilot, countered with the claim that the trophy was at stake when Callahan defends his title for Tex Rickard, the donor. Callahan received the belt when he defeated Andy Divodi in New York recently.

Mullen hopes to adjust the differences but if he is unsuccessful he will put up a belt himself. He has taken out $100,000 rain insurance for the fight, which will be held in the Cubs' ball park and also has had the hands of the boxers insured.

The World Beneath Our Feet

THE ANT PEOPLE. By Hans Heinz Ewers. (Dodd, Mead & Co.)

FANCY yourself suddenly afflicted with some optical disorder as a result of which your eyes had become microscopes, say with a magnifying power of ten thousand diameters. Then consider what would be your experience in looking down. If you were not aware of the change that had taken place in your eyes and had always been the sort of person who takes it for granted that the world was made especially for the grip of a nightmare more terrifying than any Poe could conceive; for you would be passing through a weird jungle, a world of monstrous appalling fantasies and apparently insane. No mythical beast of the world's fear haunted childhood could equal what you would see in that utterly unhuman world.

Considering that a Cosmic Intelligence can hardly be conceived as taking account of relative sizes, by which our crude senses are so greatly impressed, it might be a good thing for men to have such minds could survive the shock. We might then come to understand, what may well be true, that the phenomenon of conscious life itself is the important thing in this universe, and not merely the life of man. We might then grasp the significance of the fact that it is only men who praise men so highly, and not the innumerable other inhabitants of this planet, with whom we have no communication whatever.

Hans Heinz Ewers writes of the ant world as though he had experienced some such vision as has been suggested and had managed to retain some of it. The title of his book is significant. He has studied ants in all parts of the world for years, and he writes of them, not more as a biologist or a naturalist, but as a writer of fiction, with a keen sense of the cosmic economy than we are. Funny as it may seem, he has seriously undertaken to "feel like an ant," to approximate the ant's conception of the world. Whether or not he has ever succeeded in even the slightest degree, only a universal intelligence could decide; but the more desire is well calculated to serve as a powerful aid in the fascinating business of determining the social conceptions, the manners and customs that prevail in this little organized world of little people, who, when you think in terms of the planet Heligoland, or, better still, of interstellar space, are scarce more tiny than men are. Ewers is a scientist in the sense that he seeks exact knowledge in his field of research and classifies it. Nevertheless he betrays a wholly unscientific attitude at times and even expresses scorn for those plodding, rule-of-thumb materialists who will not grant that there are problems in the study of insect life which can be approached only by the artist mind. Certainly there are many important human problems that can be approached in no other way.

It is due to the very unusual combination of the scientist and artist in Ewers that his study of "The Ant People" is profoundly interesting. He succeeds in wiping out for the attentive reader the apparent discrepancy in mere size between ants and men; and what one beholds is a full-size fantastic world of intelligent beings building huge cities, engaging in various industries, warring great wars of conquest and defense, and in every activity revealing what is to us, in our human conceit, a quite uncanny wisdom.

ART EPOCHS AND THEIR LEADERS. By Oscar Hagen. (Scriveners.)

The author's purpose is to point out, as concisely as possible, the genesis of the painting of our day, beginning with the early fifteenth century and ending with the early years of the twentieth. "The method which I have pursued," writes Prof. Hagen, "is based upon a careful analysis of the art work which represent the various stages of development—an analysis which, in every case, proceeds from the formal artistic problems of the age in question. The illustrations have been chosen in such a way that the reader can follow with his own eyes the development traced in the discussion."

The author is professor of the history and criticism of art at the University of Wisconsin. Much of the material in his book was presented in a series of lectures delivered at the St. Louis Art Museum a year ago last winter.

THE FAMILY LINEAGE RECORD BOOK. Compiled by Frederick Adams Virkus. (F. A. Virkus & Co., Pubs. Chi.)

Several years ago David Starr Jordan published a monograph in which he undertook to show that anyone with a drop of English blood in his veins is a direct descendant of Charlemagne. All genealogies are connected, and probably in all plebeian blood there is some trace of the ichor of royalty. Those who are interested in tracing their ancestries will find this record very useful. In addition to convenience for making a systematic record, there is much advice as to how the ancestor-hunter should proceed.

John Bannan Funeral Friday.

The funeral of John Bannan, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who died in Chicago Monday, will be at 8:30 a. m. Friday from an undertaker's parlor at 1905 South Grand boulevard to St. Margaret's Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery. He lived at 3925 Flad avenue. His widow and two sisters survive.

MAURICE SCHWARTZ HANDLES ROLE OF MENDEL SPIVAK DEFTLY AT SHUBERT-RIALTO.

By DAVID RESNICK.

There was deep subtlety in the very simplicity of the performance of "Mendel Spivak," translated from the Russian play of Simeon Tashkowitz, as it was presented by the Yiddish Art Theater Players of New York City at the Shubert-Rialto Theater last night.

Those followers of the Yiddish drama who went prepared to shed tears or rock with laughter were visibly disappointed to find the piece devoid of the intense emotionalism to which they are accustomed. Instead, the actors made their purpose clear more effectively by reticence of the most ordinary acts of daily life.

The plot, if any, was extremely meager, yet the portrayal of the melancholy routine of a Russian peasant family's existence sent the audience away thinking. The role of Mendel Spivak, head of the household, was deftly handled by Maurice Schwartz, founder and director of the Yiddish Art Players, who is celebrating the tenth anniversary of the organization of the group and the recent completion of its new theater in New York by taking his company on the present tour.

Throughout the three acts of the play there predominated the sad and dreary note of Ewers, in the music as well as in the players. Every smile was quickly followed by a sigh.

Struggling along on the bare substance provided by the pay of a hospital orderly, Mendel Spivak looks for a child. After 10 years of waiting, he is presented with a son by his wife, played by Miss Olga Adler, daughter of the late Jacob Adler. Then he is dismissed by the hospital, and soon his little family faces starvation.

All about him is poverty. His relatives and the other peasants are all in similar circumstances. In the midst of his unemployment, the worst misfortune occurs—the critical illness of the baby who means so much to him. Perhaps he will make a happy ending for an American audience, the baby recovers, Mendel's job is restored and his wages doubled, as the entire cast dances merrily.

The Habana Players of the Moscow Hebrew Art Theater will present "The Immigrant" by Ansky, Sunday evening, and "The Golem" by Leyk, Monday evening, at the Shubert-Rialto.

Social Items

Of much interest to society is the simultaneous announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mrs. Marion Smith Fraser, daughter of H. T. Smith of 55 Kingsbury place, and Dr. James Ovid Hall of Little Rock, Ark.

The wedding will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the home of the bride's father, the Rev. Dr. William B. Lampe of the West Presbyterian Church officiating. The arrangements will be simple. There will be no attendants and the guests will include only Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold V. Morrow, brother-in-law and sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Y. West of Little Rock, another brother-in-law and sister, who will arrive in the morning.

The bride will wear a midnight blue ensemble, with the blouse and coat lined with flowered crepe, and a smart close-fitting hat to match. A corsage of orchids will complete the costume.

Dr. Hall and his bride will depart at noon for Chicago on their wedding trip and will make their home in Little Rock. The bride is a graduate of Mary Institute and Miss Bennett's School in Millbrook, N. Y. She did not make a formal debut, but has been a popular member of the younger social set.

Dr. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall of Memphis. He is a graduate of Vanderbilt University in Nashville.

The engagement of Miss Anna Antrim, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Antrim of 25 Kingsbury place, and Hugh Cincade Roberts of the Coronado Hotel, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Roberts of Little Rock, was announced this afternoon at an attractive luncheon bridge, given by her sister, Mrs. Louis J. Jones, 29 Joy avenue, Webster Groves. Miss Antrim is a graduate of Hesper Hall and has traveled extensively. Mr. Roberts attended St. John's Military School and is a graduate of Georgetown University. He is a member of Phi Alpha Psi fraternity. He served overseas, first for seven months with the general staff of the Australian army and later with the Sixth United States Engineers, participating in major engagements at Compiegne, Soissons, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and Argonne Forest.

The wedding will take place at 8:30 o'clock in the evening June 15 at the Antrim home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Lake Jr., of 4211 Westminster place, will close their apartment for the summer and will occupy the home of Mr. Lake's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Lake Sr., at 4266 Westminster place, during their absence in Harbor Point, Mich., where they have a cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Lake Sr. are now in New York visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Preston Phillips. They will visit in Atlantic City before returning to St. Louis, and will spend the first week in June here before going North.

Mrs. Paul Brown, Mrs. Robert McK. Jones, Mrs. A. Singer, Mrs. Howard Benoit, Mrs. Alfred Shap-

LINDBERGH FIRST SPOKE OF PARIS FLIGHT DEC. 27

Mentioned Ambition to Maj. Robertson, Who Took Him to Knight and Bixby.

Maj. William B. Robertson, president of the Robertson Aircraft Corporation, today said that Capt. Lindbergh conceived the idea of the New York-to-Paris flight last December, while he was flying the mail between Chicago and St. Louis.

As chief pilot for Robertson's company, Lindbergh had been carrying the mail, by night and by day, through all sorts of weather, and the confidence the experienced had given him had convinced him he had the ability to make the transatlantic trip.

He first consulted his employer, mentioning the project to Lindbergh. Besides asking the benefit of Robertson's experience as a flyer, he also wanted his help in financing the project.

"He had a clear idea then," Maj. Robertson said, "of what he wanted to use and he had decided it was best to try the flight with a single motor. We talked it over with my brother, Lieut. Frank H. Robertson, and finally we called upon a newspaper reporter, a friend of Slim and ourselves, for advice."

First Conference Jan. 9. That conference was held on Jan. 9 in the Robertson office at Lambert-St. Louis Field. "Slim" was all earnestness about his flight and the others realized that his outstanding flying ability would make him a splendid candidate for the trip.

Maj. Robertson and Lindbergh consulted Harry H. Knight, president of the St. Louis Flying Club, who agreed to raise money needed for the flight. "Slim" himself had already agreed to put up his savings, $2000, and the Robertson Aircraft Corporation promised an additional $1000.

Accordingly, Knight went to Harold M. Bixby, president of the Chamber of Commerce and a vice-president of the State National Bank. Bixby is a flying enthusiast and his bank agreed to lend him and Knight $15,000 on a 20-day note signed by the two, without collateral, and the money was placed at Lindbergh's disposal Feb. 18.

Payment Made to Knight. Payment by the bank was made to Knight as trustee, by draft on a New York Bank. He mailed the draft to Lindbergh, who was at San Diego negotiating for the purchase of an airplane. Within 10 days the draft, endorsed by Lindbergh and B. F. Mahoney of the Ryan Air Lines of San Diego, had been sent through the New York Clearing House.

Meanwhile, Knight set out to get subscriptions to underwrite the loan by the State National Bank. Using as a nucleus the $2000 given by Lindbergh and Robertson, and with his own and Bixby's contribution, he got subscriptions of $500 to $1000 each from the following: Harry P. Knight, a broker and the father of Harry H. Knight; Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, J. D. Woodruff, Lambert, Earl C. Thompson, vice president of the Indemnity Co. of America, and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Since that time the bank has extended the Knight-Bixby note, and is still running. Lindbergh used only $13,500 of the money advanced to him, Knight said today, and the remainder still is on deposit in San Diego.

Lindbergh himself will have the decision on whether he will compete for the $25,000 prize offered by James D. Dole for a flight to Hawaii. Maj. Lambert said today, however, that the same bankers would be willing to finance Lindbergh in another distance flight and that they would buy him a new Ryan monoplane for the trip.

TWO ARRESTED IN AUTO AND 55 GALLONS OF ALCOHOL SEIZED
East St. Louis Delicatessen Owner and Co-Owner Taken at St. Louis, Approach to Free Bridge.

Manuel Silberman, owner of an East St. Louis meat market and delicatessen, and Price White, a Negro, were arrested this morning at the St. Louis approach to the Free Bridge, after detectives had found 11 five-gallon cans of alcohol and a loaded revolver in the Ford roadster in which they were riding. Although Silberman declared he had nothing to do with the alcohol and had merely asked White for a "ride" across the bridge, detectives said they would seek warrants for both men.

White told police the car was owned by a Greek living on Sixth street, who had contracted to pay him $25 a week to haul liquor from Illinois. He had no explanation for the loaded revolver found under the seat. The cans of alcohol were wrapped in a gunnysack and stowed underneath the turtle lid in the rear.

Silberman, whose business is at 437 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, said he had some things to attend to in St. Louis and on seeing Price in the roadster had asked for a "hop" over the bridge. Both men are held.

saying they would recommend mercy. The defendant, Mrs. Bertha Pater, is under indictment charging grand larceny for obtaining diamonds valued at $1600 and failing to return or pay for them.

THREE BOYS, 12 AND 13 YEARS OLD, CONFESS BURGLARIES
Crimes Committed Since They Escaped From Bellefontaine Farm Three Months Ago.
With the arrest early today of three small boys who escaped three months ago from the Bellefontaine Farm, police of the North Market Street District believe they have cleared up about 20 burglaries in the neighborhood which have been perpetrated since their escape. Two of the prisoners are 12 years old, and the other is 13.

They were arrested at 4 o'clock this morning by Lieut. Elias Hoagland and Detective Sergeant Michael Callahan at the home of Louis Robbe, 35, of 2611 Sheridan avenue. Robbe and his wife, who at first denied the presence of the boys in their home have been arrested.

The boys confessed the burglaries to the police and said they either sold or gave away their loot. They will be turned over to the juvenile court.

New Ice Treatment
A Real Beautifier

Every Beauty Doctor knows the value of ice treatment for the complexion. Recently an English Beauty Specialist found that even better results could be obtained by simply rubbing the face, neck or hands with a little ordinary ice must either just before retiring at night or whenever one desires to look their best.

The reaction of the ice-mint on the skin not only brings the color to the cheeks the same as an ice treatment, but it also holds the color there longer and makes the skin soft, firm and more youthful in appearance. Wrinkles will soon be a thing of the past to the woman who cares for her skin. Many have already made themselves look years younger by these simple ice-mint treatments, and druggists say they are having an enormous demand for it, as the cost is little, and it is positively a delight to any woman who loves a good complexion and fine hands and skin.

BANKS BARGAIN WITH CITY ON PAYING TAX

Want $497,640 Penalties and Interest Waived — St. Louis Willing but State Is Not.

The national banks of St. Louis, which withheld for three years the payment of city, state and school taxes on their capital stock, are now willing to pay the principal amount due, $2,272,496.62, if the interest and penalties, amounting to an additional $497,640, are remitted. If they cannot get this concession, they may prolong their legal resistance. The United States Supreme Court last month, decided against the banks.

The city Board of Estimate and Apportionment has decided that it is willing to waive the interest, in order to get the money, of which the city's net share would be about $1,200,000, enough to wipe out the prospective deficit in municipal revenue.

In line with the city administration's attitude, the Board of Education voted last night to waive its share of the interest, in order to get the principal due to school funds, figured at $799,345.27.

The State will not remit the interest on the taxes due to it.

WILKINS FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO FLY TO POINT BARROW

Hops off at Fairbanks But Is Unable to Drive Monoplane to Proper Altitude.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 25.—Capt. George H. Wilkins and Alger Graham, his pilot, who left here yesterday by airplane for Point Barrow, on the way to Etah, Greenland, returned tonight because their Fokker monoplane, Alaska, failed to rise more than 3500 feet above the ground.

The take-off had been delayed several days by snowstorms. From Point Barrow the explorer planned to attempt the long flight to Etah, Greenland, in the hope of finding land.

Wilkins' regular pilot, Carl E. Eielson, is in Fairbanks for treatment to one of his hands which was frost-bitten when the Arctic flyers were lost for several weeks on the Polar "ice" in their last attempt to penetrate the "blind spot" of the North.

Notables at Writer's Funeral.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—A simple funeral service was conducted yesterday for Robert T. Small, nationally known newspaper writer who died suddenly Sunday. Chief Justice Taft, other high government officials and many Washington newspapermen and personal friends were present. The body was cremated.

vities in this and other countries. These will be published in the form of a white paper.

Labor Wants Delay.
The parliamentary labor party today considered the government's decision regarding Russia and decided to submit a motion to the effect that no action regarding a break with the Soviet be taken until a committee has inquired into the whole matter and reported to the House. The motion will be submitted tomorrow by J. R. Clynes.

As to the form labor's objection to the Government's action will take, it is pointed out that presentation of a vote of censure might be held to put the party in the position of openly defending Soviet methods, while the course adopted puts it in the attitude of advising a judicial course.

Premier Baldwin's statement in the House of Commons that Michael Borodin acted in China under direct orders from the Moscow Government and his quotation of a telegram supporting this claim, have provoked much discussion, and strengthen reports that Chang Tso-lin's raid on the Soviet embassy compound in Peking may have produced documents which encouraged the British raid upon Soviet house in London.

The Premier read a telegram dated Nov. 12, 1926, purporting to be from the Communist Foreign Affairs in Moscow to the Soviet representative in Peking. It contained these points:

"1. Until a Soviet representative is appointed to Peking, Comrade Borodin is to take orders direct from Moscow.

"2. The Far Eastern Bureau is to be informed that all its decisions and measures regarding questions of general policy of the Kuomintang (Nationalist Political Organization in China), and of military and political work, must be agreed upon with Comrade Borodin. In the event of differences of opinion arising on those questions, they must be referred to Moscow for investigation. Borodin and the Far Eastern Bureau must keep Moscow's representatives in Peking informed of all decisions and moves with regard to these questions.

"3. Comrade Borodin's appointment as official Soviet representative in Canton is recommended inadvisable. Borodin is to remain (in charge) of the work in the provinces under Canton rule, and an official representative to the Canton Government is to be appointed (sic)."

This dispatch is regarded by the British as especially interesting in light of the declarations made to Sir Robert Hodgson, head of the British mission in Moscow, by Acting Foreign Commissar Litvinoff that Borodin was a Russian communist, but did not represent the Soviet Government.

SEEK ORDER TO GET $86,000 FROM FORMER RECEIVER

Holders of Lumber Company's Certificates Charge Money Is Due From Revenues of Firm.
Holders of receiver's certificates of the Forked Leaf White Oak Lumber Co., today applied to Federal Judge Farris for an order compelling the former receiver, Edwin

R. Butler, to surrender to the present receiver $86,000—40 per cent of $215,000 which Butler is alleged to have received through sale of lumber and ties.

In the event of Butler failing to produce the $86,000, the certificate holders ask for permission to sue the National Surety Co. on his bond.

When Judge Farris authorized

LARGE PIMPLES LASTED A YEAR

On Face, Skin Very Rough, Healed by Cuticura.

"I noticed my skin was getting very rough and pimples broke out on my face. The pimples were rather large and red, and itched and burned causing me to scratch. Scratching caused disgusting eruptions that were very embarrassing. The trouble lasted about a year.

"I tried about everything with no success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in three months I was completely healed." (Signed) Walter Klingert, 1522 Richard St., Dayton, Ohio.

Clear the pores of impurities by daily use of Cuticura Soap, with touches of Cuticura Ointment as needed to soothe and heal. Cuticura Talcum is fragrant and refreshing.

WHY is this car being run in an ice box?

EVERY DAY and every night—summer and winter—a General Motors car is being tested in this big ice box in the General Motors Research Laboratories.

The temperature can be lowered to 30 degrees below zero. Ease of starting, acceleration, gas consumption, richness of mixture, oil dilution—every factor of winter driving can be tested out at every degree of temperature. The records are checked by General Motors research engineers who send them back to the engineering staffs at the various plants.

This is but one of many ways in which General Motors is using its resources to increase the value of its cars. And you may buy any General Motors car with assurance that next winter it will make your driving easier and more satisfactory.

ACQUITTED OF AUTO KILLING

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 25.—It took a Circuit Court jury three minutes to reach a verdict of not guilty in the trial of Ralph Chaplain, St. Louis salesman, charged with involuntary manslaughter for the death of 14-year-old Sallie Snyder of Little Rock in an automobile accident near here a few weeks ago. The girl was in a car which collided with Chaplain's.

BAPTIST FUNDAMENTALISTS

OPEN CHICAGO CONVENTION

Precedes Regular Meeting of Northern Baptist Convention.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, May 25.—Fundamentalist Baptists in the Northern jurisdiction swung their heavy artillery into place today for a broadside at modernists in that section of the denomination which will hold its annual gathering here starting May 31.

The Baptist Bible Union of North America, representing 50,000 members of the church in this country and Canada, prepared for its fifth annual meeting starting tonight, and continuing until Tuesday when the Northern Baptist convention, which is expected to draw 20,000 persons, gets under way.

The Baptist Bible Union, entirely separate from the Northern Baptist Convention, grew out of the old Fundamentalist Committee of the denomination, headed now by Dr. P. M. Fairchild of New York. The fundamentalists will launch an attack on the proposal to do away with baptism and the speakers' subject indicate a cross fire at every modernistic trend.

While the Baptist Bible Union will carry on against modernism, the Northern Baptist convention will be a harmonious gathering, according to Dr. Johnson Meyers, executive secretary of the local committee. Every effort has been made, he said, to eliminate controversial squabbles, and while several members of the Bible Union are delegates, he expected the fundamentalists will be in such a minority that tiffs between them and the modernists will be held to a minimum.

LINDBERGH'S FLIGHT TOPIC

OF STUDY IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Even the Little Pupils Make Paper Models of "The Spirit of St. Louis."

Capt. Lindbergh's famous flight has become the theme of instruction and discussion in the St. Louis public schools.

In the high schools and upper classes of the grade schools, where current events are discussed as a part of the regular program, Lindbergh and his flight furnish the principal topic. The flight will be the subject of addresses at the regular auditorium sessions in the high schools.

In the lower grades and kindergartens the children have been making paper airplanes and crayon drawings of the "Spirit of St. Louis" flying over a very blue sea. One of the sketches shows the plane landing at Le Bourget field and bears the caption "Hurrah America."

Negro Who Said He Found It, Also Had Ticket for $250 Ring.

A brooch set with 25 diamonds, valued at $900, which had been pawned for $25 in a Franklin avenue pawnshop, was identified by police Tuesday as one which had been lost eight months ago by Mrs. Ferdinand Bach, 5839 Westminster place.

A Negro who works near the Bach home was identified as the one who pawned the brooch. The Negro said he had found it. Detectives who arrested the Negro recovered a pawn ticket for a ring valued at $250 which had been pawned for $25. This ring, the Negro said, had been bought by him several years ago in Pueblo, Col. The Negro is held.

IZAAK WALTONS BACK FLOOD CONTROL PLAN

Missouri Chapter to Make Survey to Prevent Destruction of Wild Life.

A resolution requesting the Izaak Walton League of America to appoint a commission to study problems of flood control, from among the engineers and others of technical training within the league's membership, was passed at the closing session of the third annual convention of the Missouri Division of the league yesterday at Hotel Missouri. The resolution pointed out that floods such as that experienced this spring in the Mississippi Valley cause great destruction of wild life, as well as human suffering and loss, and that, for these reasons, the league should concern itself with the problems of their abatement.

George S. Johns heads League. At the annual election of the Missouri chapter, held during the afternoon, George S. Johns, editor of the editorial page of the Post-Dispatch, was elected president. Other officers elected were: Honorary president, United States Senator Hawkey; vice president, Reginald Barrett of Joplin and J. Paul Price of Hannibal; and treasurer, John A. Love of St. Louis.

The Missouri Chapter issued a list of "don'ts" which are expected to be of assistance in the chapter's conservation program, during the warm months when thousands of tourists will be in the rural districts of the state on outings.

"Don'ts" for Sport Lovers.
The "don'ts" follow:
Don't leave rubbish on your camping place.
Don't destroy flowers and shrubs.
Don't fail to put out camp fire.
Don't take black bass under 10 inches long.
Don't take rainbow trout under eight inches long.
Don't fish for game fish before June 1.
Don't fish for rainbow trout after September 20.
Don't shoot unless you know where your bullet is going.
Don't fail to wet your hand thoroughly before releasing undersized fish.
Don't fish with "gang" hooks.
Don't hunt or fish on private property without the owner's consent.

Boy Identifies 99 of 100 Birds.
Guy H. Greenwell, 8-year-old honorary member of the league, who was a delegate from Joplin, amazed some of the older delegates with his intimate knowledge of wild life. In a test, Guy named 99 out of 100 birds, pictures of which were shown him, and told some of the habits of the birds. Guy spends much of his leisure in the woods near Joplin studying the habits of wild animals and birds. He told the delegates of strange habits of some Missouri birds, among them the cowbird, so named because it stays in pasture lands near cows, and lays its eggs in the nest of other birds, to be hatched.

Tells About Birds' Habits.
Guy told of finding the nests of kingfishers, daffy woven from small fishbones; of another bird he could not name which lines its nest with a snakeskin; of the "oven" bird, which makes its nest the shape of an old-time Dutch oven and seems to cry "teacher, teacher," when it calls. It is planned that Guy will be taken to places where shapers are being formed, to speak on subjects pertaining to wild life in Missouri. Guy's father, Kelly E. Greenwell, accompanied the boy to the convention.

FLORA PLACE CHURCH OUSTER IS TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Testimony Given That Only 12 of 180 Homes in District Are For Sale.

There are 180 houses in Flora place, a six-block private residential street running from Grand boulevard to Tower Grove avenue, and only 12 of them are for sale. It was brought out yesterday in the suit of residents against the Compton Heights Christian Church, to keep the congregation from occupying a dwelling at Grand and Flora and later erecting an edifice there, in alleged violation of restrictions.

Circuit Judge Hartmann has taken the case under advisement. Rev. James H. Coit, pastor of the church, testified there was no congregation of automobiles at services at the old edifice, California and St. Vincent avenue, W. 42, Sheridan, a trustee of the church, who has lived near its new site for 17 years, testified that a marked change from a residence to a business, professional and institutional character had taken place in the neighborhood.

In rebuttal, Harry R. Stocker of 4265 Flora place declared that the place compared well with the best residential sections of St. Louis, and included a number of dwellings worth from $75,000 to $100,000.

GUNMAN PAYS FINE OF $500

Tony Russo, Who Fought Cuckoo Gang, Carried Concealed Weapon. Tony Russo, one of the leaders of Italian gunmen who engaged in a feud with members of the Cuckoo gang last fall, was fined $500 by Circuit Judge Hogan yesterday when he pleaded guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. Russo paid the fine. Most of the money goes into public school funds. Russo was arrested with an automatic pistol in his pocket on the street, Sept. 20, last, while the gang warfare was at its height.

DRURY COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES TO BE JUNE 2

Fifteen Members of Graduating Class Have Secured Positions as Teachers.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 25.—Fifteen members of this year's graduating class at Drury College have already secured positions as teachers for the 1927-28 school year. Other graduates will continue their studies in other colleges and universities. Commencement exercises will be held June 2 at Drury.

The following have secured teaching positions: Miss Martha Anderson, at Gainesville, Miss Blanche Roper, Republic, Carl Brummett, Crane, Miss Lois Thompson, Golden, City, Misses Lucy Lee Ferguson and Lucy Bell Jones, Smith, Colo.; Miss Mildred Ritter, Springfield; Miss Mildred, Cape Cole Camp; Miss Mary Elizabeth Hampton, Springfield; Miss Annam Hood, Chamonix; Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Conway; Miss Mildred Wright, West Plains; Miss Helen Reed, Springfield; Miss Eva Brummett, Warsaw; Miss Anna Eitman, Lewistown.

Gov. Hill will attend New York University having been awarded a $1000 scholarship in that institution and a fellowship in the economics department. Miss Katherine Magne has been awarded a fellowship in the University of Missouri and Miss Mary Louise Coltrane and Louise Nelson will continue their studies in the East. Clarence Warren will study medicine in St. Louis.

Sentenced in $104,000 Holdup.

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURG, Pa., May 25.—Joe Weckowski, Bentleyville, Pa., farmer, has been sentenced to five to 10 years imprisonment on charges brought in connection with the Covadale mine of the Pittsburg Terminal Coal Corporation, three months ago. More than $25,000 was found on Weckowski's farm after the arrest of Paul Jaworski. The latter was sentenced to 20 to 60 years for the robbery and also convicted of slaying a guard in another payroll robbery.

SHIPPING BOARD APPROVES POOL IN COAST TRADE

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Shipping Board today approved an agreement among 11 intercoastal ship lines designed to promote cooperation between the carriers in the observance of rates and practices.

The agreement is effective six months and arbitration in event of its breach by any member is provided for. Any carrier in the intercoastal trade is eligible for membership upon consent of three-fourths of the members and any member may be dropped if reasonable cause is shown by a three-fourths vote.

The carriers, on westbound traffic, have agreed to pool their earnings over six months, the division of profits being on the basis of tonnage handled by the individual members.

FOR PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE Senator Wheeler Advocates Immediate Freedom of Islands.

By the Associated Press.
MANILA, May 25.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler (Dem.), Mont., today declared himself in favor of immediate and absolute independence for the Philippines. His attitude was made known in an address before the Philippine Columbian Association. Wheeler, who has just completed a tour of the islands, said:

"If the Philippines should become a permanent political issue in the United States tomorrow they would get immediate independence. The greatest need of the Philippines, however, is not independence, but education. The laboring classes and the ignorant proletariat are bound to create an unrest that might be as disastrous as that in Manzanillo, about 30 miles west of Santiago. The boat was shot by a farmer yesterday after having killed his livestock. For months the jaguar terrorized the Oriente Province, destroying livestock and endangering human lives."

Some people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now. For McCo's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, which any druggist will tell you all about, is putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of valuable flesh-producing vitamins, but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCo's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are sugar coated and as easy to take as candy, and if any thin person doesn't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask Wolf-Wilson Drug Stores or any live pharmacist anywhere.

But be sure to get McCo's, the original and genuine—imitations won't do—and bear in mind that for thin, sickly kids they are wonderful flesh builders—a very sickly child, aged 3, gained 15 pounds in 7 months.

HUNTING WAR COMRADE TO PAY HIM FOR PIPE

Englishman Has Owed Lieut. Boyle, Presumably of St. Louis, $1.25 Since Ypres.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Two days before the battle of Ypres, twelve years ago, John Whitley of Yorkshire bought a pipe from a Lieut. Boyle, an American serving with the British artillery, but as Boyle could not change a 1-Lb. note, Whitley promised to give him the five shillings as soon as he got it. Separated from his friend when he went into action, Whitley has not yet paid for the pipe.

At Oxford Whitley won the Irving T. Bush research scholarship and came to the United States last December to make a survey of American educational systems. One of his hopes was to find Boyle, but he did not know the American's initials. He did know, however, that while in the service Boyle had corresponded with a candy firm in St. Louis.

So one of the first things Whitley did when he visited St. Louis was to call on the candy company, the name of which he remembered, and ask about Boyle, but no one knew him. Then Whitley called all the Boyles in the telephone book and called the one in the city directory, but he did not find the right Boyle.

Whitley sailed for England yesterday on the Mauretania.

"The last feature of this debt," he said, "is that I get a pipe and the pipe and smoke it. I would enjoy it more if it were paid for."

Whitley, who was a guest of Dr. Arthur Frank Payne of 65 Park avenue, while in New York, hopes Boyle will see the story in the papers and will communicate with him through Dr. Payne.

STATE SENATOR McCRAWLEY MENTIONED FOR GOVERNOR

Motion Picture Theater Owners Profound Support if He Seeks Democratic Nomination.

State Senator Alfred L. McCrawley of Carthage, one of the leaders in the last Legislature in the opposition to Gov. Baker's nuisance tax program, which was defeated in the Senate, received an informal endorsement for the Democratic nomination for Governor at a meeting yesterday of the Motion Picture Theater Owners' Association of Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois, at the Ellis Club.

The Association was opposed to the Governor's bill because it sought to impose a 10 per cent tax on admissions to amusements. Senator McCrawley was a speaker at the Association's luncheon and was introduced by Fred Wehrenberg, the president, who assured him that he would have strong support from the motion picture theater owners if he became a candidate. The members of the Association stood and applauded the statement.

Senator McCrawley has not announced his candidacy formally, but has indicated to friends private his intention to seek the nomination.

SETTLEMENT IN $600,000 SUIT

Chicago Teacher to Receive $50,000 Fund and Apartment House.

By the Associated Press. SPENCER, Ia., May 25.—The suit of Miss Elsie Edwards, a Chicago school teacher, for an increased share in the $600,000 estate of M. E. Griffin, Spencer bachelor, on the contention that she was Griffin's daughter, was settled out of court yesterday. Under the settlement a $25,000 trust fund Miss Edwards received in the Griffin will is increased to $50,000 and she received a deed to an apartment house in Chicago, in which she is now living.

One of the last bits of evidence introduced by attorneys for Miss Edwards was a letter purportedly written by Miss Edwards' mother. The part to which attorneys for the estate objected read: "I was married Nov. 14, 1883, but continued to live in Spencer. Elsie was born the following December. She was M. E. Griffin's daughter, with Dolph Edwards' consent, who insisted a woman had a right to motherhood if she desired it."

Attempts Suicide Before Execution.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 23.—After having survived an attempt to end his life last night while confined in the death cell at the Tennessee State Prison, John Henry Wallace, Negro, was executed early today for the murder of Everett Hedgecoth, Marshall County farmer, in 1925.

Wallace slashed his throat with a razor blade which he told prison officials he found in his cell. He was said to have confessed to shooting Hedgecoth several days ago.

250 LETTERS MAILED VIA AIR TO LINDBERGH

Heartily Response to Suggestion of Recognizing Service He Helped to Develop.

Capt. Lindbergh, the St. Louis-Chicago air mail pilot, who took a few months off the job to fly from New York to Paris, will find many pouches of air mail awaiting him when he debarks at New York in the near future.

In line with the suggestion of Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, one of his backers, that St. Louisans send their congratulations to the heroic flyer via the air mail service, which he served so faithfully, hundreds of letters are taking the air. About 250 were dispatched yesterday, and the total is expected to multiply daily.

From St. Louis to Chicago the air mail is being handled by Lindbergh's associates at the St. Louis-Lambert Field—Philip R. Love, Thomas P. Nelson and Robert L. Coulter, pilots of the Robertson Aircraft Corporation. At Chicago the mail is transferred to New York-bound planes.

Mark Letters "Air Mail." Letters should be marked "Air Mail" and addressed to Lindbergh, in care of the New York Postmaster. The postage is 10 cents a half ounce. The average letter weighs a quarter of an ounce.

Postmaster Michener, in a letter yesterday to Postmaster Kiley of New York City, requested that the letters be segregated and delivered immediately upon Lindbergh's arrival. Michener added: "We believe that this evidence of the esteem in which he is held by all the citizens of St. Louis will be appreciated, particularly so because of being transmitted by that service in which he was engaged and which he loves so well."

Would Increase Mail. Renewed efforts to increase the amount of air mail from St. Louis firms and individuals are being made by Postmaster Michener and a Chamber of Commerce committee, headed by Maj. Lambert. Circular letters calling attention to the advantages of air mail are being delivered to wholesale houses. Additional air mail boxes have been placed at Grand boulevard and Olive street, at Kingshighway and Delmar boulevard and Kingshighway and Lindell boulevard.

The air mail averages about 55 points a day, according to Michener, who says 125 pounds are necessary to make the business profitable. At present the Clearing House Association is helping to support the local service with a subsidy, but this will be stopped June 15.

FORMER AUDITOR INDICTED FOR EMBEZZLING $22,750

C. B. Smith Who Fled to Texas Accused by Clients of the Compton Co.

Charles B. Smith, 33 years old, former auditor of William R. Compton Co., investment brokers, is charged in an indictment returned today with embezzlement of $22,750 worth of Liberty bonds from clients of the Compton Co.

The alleged offense, as has been told, occurred in May, 1924, when Smith was auditor of the bond house at a salary of $550 a month. Customers of the firm had left bonds with Smith for safekeeping and he was supposed to look after interest receipts and mail checks for the proper amounts.

It is charged in the indictment that Smith withdrew $22,750 of the bonds and sold them at the Liberty Central Trust Co. through the device of having a relative come here from Texas to make the deal for him. Smith lived with his wife and two children at the Gatesworth Hotel. They disappeared shortly after the bond deal.

Through a forwarding address Smith had left with the hotel, he was traced to a 125-acre farm near San Benito, Tex., seven miles from the Mexican border. Detectives employed by the company which had bonded him caused his arrest and return to St. Louis.

WAGE REDUCTION IN ITALY 130,000 Textile Workers Accept 10 Per Cent Cut.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, May 23.—A ten per cent cut has been accepted in behalf of 130,000 workers in the cotton and textile industries by the Fascist Syndicalist organization, it is announced.

Industrial circles also said similar reductions were being studied for the silk industry and the Merchant Marine workers not included in a 15 per cent wage reduction which already has been accepted by the Fascist Federation of Land, Transportation and Internal Navigation Workers.

Swedish Loan Over-Subscribed. By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, May 23.—A new Swedish state loan of 30,000,000 kroner (about $13,000,000) was almost immediately over-subscribed yesterday. The rate is 4½ per cent, and the loan was issued on a basis of $9.75.

53-Day Drouth Ends After Prayers.

By the Associated Press.

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 23.—Wilmington's prayers for rain were answered today and a drouth of 53 days was broken. Twenty-four hours, almost to the hour since the ministerial association of the city asked that all religious organizations pray for rain, rain began falling.

The dentists of the country tell of the real safeguard against tooth decay and tender gums

GUARD THE DANGER LINE

WHERE TEETH MEET GUMS

EVERYONE knows what a real threat decayed teeth or irritated gums can be to physical well-being. But until today, it was difficult to decide what constituted an effective safeguard against this enemy because of the confusion resulting from conflicting theories as to what is correct mouth hygiene.

To put an end to such a condition, E. R. Squibb & Sons caused an investigation to be made. 50,000 dentists were asked to give the results of their experience.

95% of the answers received said that:

(1) Acids are the most frequent cause of tooth decay and irritated gums.

(2) The most serious trouble occurs at the place where teeth and gums meet—known as The Danger Line.

Squibb's Dental Cream cleans beautifully. It relieves sensitive teeth and sore gums. It is safe for everyone.

To protect your teeth and gums, see your dentist regularly—and use Squibb's Dental Cream daily. 40c a large tube.

2 1/4 million dollars each week

Utah's mineral production in 1926 was valued at $2,293,553 each week—or a total of $119,270,000 for the year! Utah ranks first among all states in silver production, second in lead, third in copper, and fourth in gold. The state's metal mines paid $15,073,500 in dividends in 1926.

See some of these wealth-producing mines, near Salt Lake City. At Bingham giant electric and steam shovels are digging into a solid mountain of copper ore—a bigger job than the Panama Canal.

"How Sensible"

she said, when her dentist told her to use a dentifrice for one purpose only—to

CLEAN

The idea that a dentifrice should clean—not try to "cure"—appeals strongly to the intelligence of modern women. That is why more of them use Colgate's than any other dentifrice. For Colgate's is made to do just one thing—to clean—the thing which leading dental authorities agree a dentifrice must do.

Ribbon Dental Cream is made to clean teeth, and it cleans them better by the following method: As you brush, it breaks into a sparkling, bubbling foam. In this foam is calcium carbonate, a finely ground powder which loosens clinging food particles, and polishes all tooth surfaces. Next, this foam, in a detergent-washing wave, sweeps over teeth, tongue, gums, washing all surfaces, removing the very causes of tooth decay.

Colgate's attempts to do no more than clean, because dentists say that a dentifrice should do no more. Rely on your dentist to cure your teeth—rely on Colgate's to keep them clean.

PREMIER BALDWIN APPEALS FOR UNITY AMONG ALL BRITONS

Prime Minister Asks People to Make Empire Great Force for Righteousness in World.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 25.—An appeal to all Britons to help make the Empire a great force for righteousness in the world, and a plea for unity were voiced by Premier Stanley Baldwin in an Empire day address broadcast throughout the country last night from all the stations of the British Broadcasting Corporation. The Prime Minister delivered his message from his home, No. 10 Downing street.

"We must devote our best energies in the years to come," he declared, "to make our unity such a reality that men and women will regard the Empire as the only way to become possible for them to move within its bounds, to New Zealand, Australia, South Africa and Canada, as easily and freely as from Glasgow to London, or from Bristol to Newcastle."

In another part of his speech he said: "The British Empire is a spiritual inheritance which we hold in trust, not only for its members, but for all the nations which surround it. Let us see to it that we hand it on to our successors with untarnished glory."

NEW POLICE HEADQUARTERS BUILDING OPEN TO ALL BIDDERS

Board Decides Against Limiting $500,000 Structure Job Only to Certain Selected Contractors.

As a result of complaints by four St. Louis construction companies, the Police Board has decided to advertise for bids for erection of the new $500,000 Police Headquarters Building, southwest corner of Twelfth street and Clark avenue, instead of permitting only certain selected contractors to figure on the job.

A statute provides that no contract for a public building costing more than $10,000 shall be let by any board existing under Missouri laws (as the St. Louis Police Board does) until public bids are solicited by advertising, and the number of bids shall not be restricted or curtailed.

It had been proposed to receive bids from the selected contractors next Tuesday, but now bids will be taken from any who care to figure on the job, on a date to be set probably late in June.

GENERAL CREDITORS OF DORRIS COMPANY TO GET 20 PER CENT

Trustee Joseph M. Reardon Denies Report That 50 Per Cent Will Be Paid.

General creditors of the bankrupt Dorris Motor Co. will receive about 20 per cent of their claims, according to Trustee Joseph M. Reardon, who said a previous statement that creditors would receive a 50 per cent dividend was erroneous and not authoritative.

Allowed claims of creditors of the Dorris company approximate $100,000, against which there is $25,000 realized from the sale of free assets. Expenses of litigation plus a preferred claim of $3,000 for rental must be paid from the $25,000, leaving about 20 per cent for general creditors, Reardon estimates. The first dividend of 15 per cent will be paid next Tuesday and the balance when the estate is closed.

KILLED OPERATING RADIO

Woman in England Accidentally Electrocutted.

In the Associated Press.

SULBURY, England, May 25.—Experts are investigating the peculiar circumstances surrounding the death last night of Mrs. Violet Ewing, who was killed apparently as the result of an electric shock while listening with ear phones to a radio crystal set.

It appears that she was holding an electric reading lamp at the time. It is thought there may have been a short circuit in the lamp and that she received the shock when her steel spectacle frames coming into contact with the radio head phones, the current being grounded through the radio set.

MOTORIST BLAMES DOMESTIC TROUBLES FOR FLEEING MISHAP

Admits His Motorcar Rammed Parked Machine, but Says Mind Was "Temporarily Blank."

Domestic troubles, which caused his mind to go "temporarily blank," were given as the reason for his running away from the scene of an automobile accident last midnight by Fred P. Willey of 2455 Kookuk street when police arrested him this morning.

Willey admitted that he was the automobile which last night rammed a parked car in front of 2551 Arsenal street, in which two women were seated, and that he had backed away from the wreckage and sped away. Mrs. Margaret O'Brien of 4017 A Lindenwood avenue, received serious internal injuries when she was fung to the floor of the parked car by the impact of the collision.

Willey was arrested after police had checked the license number of the automobile which Mrs. O'Brien's woman companion had written down. The car struck by Willey's automobile belonged to Mark J. Gleason, 4926 Tholoan avenue. The impact caused Gleason's machine to ram a third car parked several feet ahead.

ADMITS KILLING HIS MOTHER

Man Held at Flint, Mich., Tells of Burying Body on Farm.

By the Associated Press.

FLINT, Mich., May 25.—Harry P. McClellan, 41 years old, confessed today, according to the police, that he killed his mother, Mrs. Nancy Garwood, with a hammer and buried her body on the farm of Mrs. Bertha Chapin, 15 miles northwest of here.

Mrs. Chapin, referred to by McClellan as "my lady friend," was arrested with McClellan, after the body of Mrs. Garwood, bound hand and foot, was dug up on the farm last Monday afternoon.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

I have been watching the results of constipation for 47 years, since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderfully interesting experiments and tests, the fundamentals of causes and relief in this common ailment are unchanged.

No matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe in getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild vegetable compound. It cannot harm the most delicate system and is not a habit-forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting and easy to take. It does not grip. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Recently there has been a new wave of drastic laxatives. Calomel, mercury that salivates and loosens teeth, has been revived; salts which draw vital fluids from the body and thin the blood, causing rheumatic aches and pains, have been disguised in gum or candy form; that poisons and irritates the tissue of the stomach, intestine and bowel, causing skin eruptions. In a practice of 47 years I never saw any person who used such laxatives without suffering from constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the bowels open, the feet warm, the bowels open.

teries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take a teaspoonful that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. The cost is only about a cent a dose. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the bowels open, the feet warm, the bowels open.

DIDN'T RELISH HER BREAKFAST

Head Ached and There Was a Dull Stupid Feeling That Indicated the Need of Black-Draught.

"I have tried many remedies for constipation, but the most satisfactory one is Black-Draught," says Mrs. Lloyd Duncan, of Pine Knot, Ky. "I began using it four or five years ago, and still use it when I need a laxative. It seems to cleanse my system."

"I used to have severe headaches, would get up in the morning with a dull, stupid feeling, and a bad taste in my mouth. I didn't feel like I wanted my breakfast, and I didn't feel equal to my work. I now take Black-Draught as soon as I begin feeling these symptoms, and a few doses makes all the difference in the world. I do not lose a day with headache, and I do not have sour stomach any more."

"I give Black-Draught to my little girl when she has a cold and needs a laxative. I keep it in easy reach on my medicine shelf."

Every one, young and old, should learn to keep their systems free from impurities. Constipation looks poisonous in the body and allows them to do their dangerous work. They should drive out these poisons with Theodor's Black-Draught, the old, well-known, purely vegetable laxative-cathartic medicine.

teries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take a teaspoonful that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. The cost is only about a cent a dose. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the bowels open, the feet warm, the bowels open.

"Milady's Perfumes"

Being Presented as This Week's Stage Spectacle at SKOURAS'

Ambassador Theater

Was Inspired by the Mystic and Alluring Fragrance of the Truly Parisian Perfumes by D'ciny

Blossom Time

AND TRUSO

This exquisite production, costing thousands of dollars, and produced by the largest theatre organization in the world—Public Theatre Corporation—was inspired by D'ciny's Truso and Blossom Time perfume.

When you see "Milady's Perfumes" by John Murray Anderson at the Ambassador this week, remember that this magnificent presentation reflects the charm, the color, the vivacity, the allure of these marvelous perfumes.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH NEW YORK BONDS (COMPLETE)

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 25.—Total transactions in bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today amounted to 10,521,000; previous day 10,541,000; week 60, 12,479,000; year ago, 12,500,000; two years ago, 14,426,000. Total sales from Jan. 1 to date were 1,512,888,000, compared with 1,344,640,000 same period year ago and 1,586,512,000 same period two years ago.

Quotations on Liberty bonds are in dollars and thirty-cent seconds of a dollar; that is, for instance, a sale printed 99-24 means $99 and twenty-four thirty-cent seconds of a dollar and not $99.24.

The following is a complete list of transactions, with sales, highest, lowest and closing prices:

Starring Dulcie Jayne

VIRGINIA TRACY

SYNOPSIS

Cornelia Marsh, employed in the scenario department of Hertzog's motion picture studio at Fort Lee, learns with sorrow that Harry Horner, the head of the department, has been fired by Lyman Hertzog, son of the owner of the studio. Everyone knows that Lyman is jealous of Harry because he is in love with Dulcie Jayne, the star of the studio, but Dulcie seems to prefer her director, Daniel K. Leland.

INSTALLMENT XI A Guilty Secret

CORNELIA perceived that whatever conversation Mr. Horner did want would still be dominated by their two conflicting points of view about Mr. Horner. His own saw him as that impressive object, an office head—a head surely none the less impressive by being severe!—addressing an elderly lady of his staff for whom he had the highest regard. The wisest heart in the world being unable to show him, at twenty-three, the other viewpoint that of the elderly lady who, seeing before her a tall, weedy innocent with round eyes, a snub nose, dimples and a pleated coat sticking out in the rear, fully returned his high regard by telling herself that she didn't believe she could be fonder of the boy if he had been her own son.

"I don't know as I've got any right to intrude upon you, now," continued the office head, "particularly when what I want is to ask you a favor." Lowering himself beside her with polite carelessness, he slid the cake into her box. "It's a very great deal of a favor. And I'm afraid you'll think it's a pretty queer one. But there's no body else I can ask."

"Ask it, my lamb," said the elderly lady, in her heart. But to Mr. Horner she spoke only with encouraging silence.

"What gets my courage up," he went on, setting his cup in his saucer and extending them, "is just my having thought for a long while that you—that—" Having poured his tea, Cornelia looked up with continued encouragement into those round brown eyes, thinking that she had never been so conscious of the office head as a quick flusher and a slow speaker, "that you are kind of in—in love—with the same lady I am."

Cornelia screwed the top back on the thermos bottle and Mr. Horner took a sealding draught of tea. The boy was at once too simple and too wise. You never knew where you had him!

"I judged from that scenario of yours—'Briar Rose'—I saw it was about her you wrote it. It was a perfect likeness. It was just—her. Your seeing her that way, in all her variety, it—if you'll excuse me saying so, it's wonderful."

Cornelia felt, though silently, that he was perfectly excusable.

"They're plenty of people trying to write a story for her, for themselves, would have called it 'The Rose.' It was only somebody writing a story for her, for herself, would have put in the—briar." The office head blinked suddenly and hard, as if the briar had given his heart a prick. But then the tea was certainly very hot. "I guess it must seem queer to you—my actually mentioning that I—that I—if I was a man of iron," said Mr. Horner, "I suppose I wouldn't have said right out that I—loved her. But—" He smiled his shy, mischievous, wise—baby smile. "I don't imagine, any way, it's what would be called a secret."

Cornelia, returning his smile, suddenly read in it what his unbarbing on this confidence was costing him.

"So now that I'm not going to see her for quite a while I would hate to go away having you think it was just a kind of a—crush. I know she is very young. And when I first cared for her more than two years ago, I was rather young also. To some people, the feeling she has inspired in me might be inclined to appear juvenile. But—something in the office head had gone stiff and bits of speech were escaping from his mouth only one by one, like pigeons out of a trap. "But—sometimes—I seriously think, Miss Marsh, the younger a feeling is—the more it's likely to be—pro—pp—profound."

For some reason or other he had got to his feet and appeared to be unable to get down again.

"I wish to assure you—the extent of my feeling for Dulcie—is and always will be—profound. Right through me. I mean, for life. There'll never be anything at all I wouldn't do for her. Now—or forever—or for any time. He was getting painfully excited. "I tell you this, Miss Marsh, so that you will realize that I—I would be acting for her good, in case—in case my request certainly does seem strange—"

"I could have had you when I was twenty-two, as well as not," sighed Cornelia to herself, looking at the office head as he bit on a pause. "But go on."

"A person would be justified in anything they did for her," he persisted. "For her career, I mean. Because, if only she gets out all she has in her, she'll probably be the most important person in the world."

Even Cornelia was slightly startled. Adorer though she was, she could still conceive of worldly plans in which Dulcie Jayne's importance might be differently rated.

"I mean," Mr. Horner explained, with his thought reading quickness. "She'll be showing the truth to more people. Her friends have got to remember that in case of things they wouldn't otherwise do."

Cornelia saw with growing curiosity that the innocent creature really did conceal somewhere about him some guilty secret, which made him expect to be taken for an assassin or highwayman or abductor of maidens. But it also made him insist on the rightness of his cause.

"It isn't even as if there was any actress could compare with her on the peaking stage. I suppose Mrs. Fiske, when she was young, must have been a good deal like Miss Jayne—more spunky looking than people were used to in ingenuite parts for a very small fair lady. But I hope Miss Jayne is going to go right on from whatever place Mrs. Fiske leaves off at."

Cornelia made no motion to break Mr. Horner's dream. Yet it clouded.

"What one trouble is, her pictures have to be a terrible responsibility for the people who believe in her because she isn't used to reading much." By this time he had managed to lower himself to sit on his heels. "In choosing stories she'd be quite easily put off by an author writing—why—uh—any way at all special. Specially well, even. That might bother her dreadfully because she'd see there was something she couldn't quite get on to, getting by her. Coar, for instance, or Thomas Hardy. If you know what I mean. Of course, Miss Marsh, I shouldn't like to have this go any further."

Cornelia signified that, as far as she was concerned, nothing about Miss Jayne and Thomas Hardy should get out. Then Henry Horner trusted her with a statement fit only for the ears of the elect.

"Because she's got such a flower looking little face—a kind of temptuous flower, I admit, Miss Marsh—there's no sense in pretending it signifies her not coming from the poorest kind of people. Her father kept a little cigar and stationery store over on Third avenue—they lived at the back. There was always so much to do—the younger children and the shop and no mother, she—"

He lifted the round, brown candor of his gaze and held Cornelia's with it, "she isn't what a boy would call well educated. The only things she knows about are the important things."

"O, you dear!" silently cried Cornelia's heart. "You blessed dear!"

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given. Letters on medical questions of undoubted interest when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

ST. LOUIS—St. Louis did not use the word "savior" in 1926. The word was used in the late President Roosevelt's speech at the College of William and Mary, June 10, 1918. He spoke at the first of his trips to St. Louis.

Q—The poem, the first line of which is "The night has a thousand eyes and the day but one," was written by Francis William Stead. A copy can be seen at the Public Library.

Q—Only the two eldest sons of the King of England have the title. These titles are the Duke of Wales and the Duke of York. The other sons are called Prince of Wales and Prince George.

Q—V. W. The Star Spangled Banner, national anthem of the United States, was composed by Francis Scott Key on Sept. 13, 1794, during the bombardment of Fort Mifflin, while Scott paced the deck of the battleship Minden.

Q—The refrigerator pull the refrigerator away from the wall, then point a circle of kerosene around the refrigerator. The ants will not cross the circle.

Q—We cannot advise about investments of any kind. Consult your bank about transfer of your money to another city and about the business-the bank is handling for you that you would like to have transferred.

Q—John Ennis walked from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He started with a plunger and a surfboard. He was in New York, Monday, May 22, 1910, and arrived at the Cliff Hotel, San Francisco, August 24, 1910, after a voyage in the ocean before the wind.

Q—The time he lowered the flag was 23 days. Ennis, a Western, did not walk on Sunday.

Asparagus Vinaigrette.
Boil the asparagus as directed and cool it. Arrange it on lettuce leaves and just at serving pour over the sauce and garnish with a half teaspoonful of washed and drained capers. Make the sauce of a quarter cupful of olive-oil, the juice of a large onion, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a quarter teaspoonful of sugar, a saltspoonful of pepper, the same of salt, two tablespoonfuls of tarragon vinegar and one of cider vinegar, a quarter teaspoonful of paprika, two cloves, and a tiny slice of garlic. Let stand for ten minutes stirring frequently, then remove cloves and garlic and turn over the asparagus. Turn over enough to moisten well but not to be sloppy. Garnish with a few sprays of fresh watercress.

Moslem-Christian Marriage.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Aiche Zeinba Hanem, daughter of the aristocratic ex-senator Ali Riza Bey, of Stamboul, is the first Moslem woman to be married by the civil authorities. She married a wealthy Italian Christian, Emilio Marinelli. Under the old Koranic law marriages between a Moslem woman and a Christian man were absolutely taboo, although Moslem men were permitted to marry Christian women. The new Civil Code which went into application last fall eliminates this discrimination.

The Greatest Story in the World—By Kor

And Joseph said unto Pharaoh, Now therefore let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt. Let him appoint officers over the land, and let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn. And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt: that the land perish not through the famine. And Pharaoh said unto his servants, Can we find such a one as this, a man in whom the spirit of God is? And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, Forasmuch as God had shewed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art: Thou shalt be over my house, and according to thy word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than thou. And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, See, I have set thee over all the land of Egypt. And Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand.

In the Footsteps of Abraham Lincoln

LINCOLN WAS UNABLE TO WIN SUPPORT FOR HIS PLAN OF COMPENSATED EMANCIPATION AND FINALLY DECIDED THAT IT WAS AN ABSOLUTE MILITARY NECESSITY TO FREE THE SLAVES. HE FIRST SUGGESTED THIS IDEA IN THE EARLY SUMMER OF 1862 TO SECRETARIES WELLES AND SEWARD WHO WERE DRIVING TO THE FUNERAL OF A BROTHER OF SECRETARY STANTON'S.

LINCOLN TALKED THE EMANCIPATION OVER WITH HIS CABINET, AND THEY GRADUALLY ACCEPTED IT. SEWARD SUGGESTED THAT LINCOLN WAIT FOR A VICTORY TO MAKE THE DOCUMENT HE HAD PREPARED PUBLIC; OTHERWISE HIS ENEMIES WOULD THINK IT HIS "LAST SHRIEK ON THE RETREAT" ON SEPTEMBER 7, 1862, CAME THE FEDERAL VICTORY AT ANTIETAM. FIVE DAYS LATER A STATE DEPARTMENT MEMORANDUM SUMMONED THE VARIOUS HEADS OF THE DEPARTMENT TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

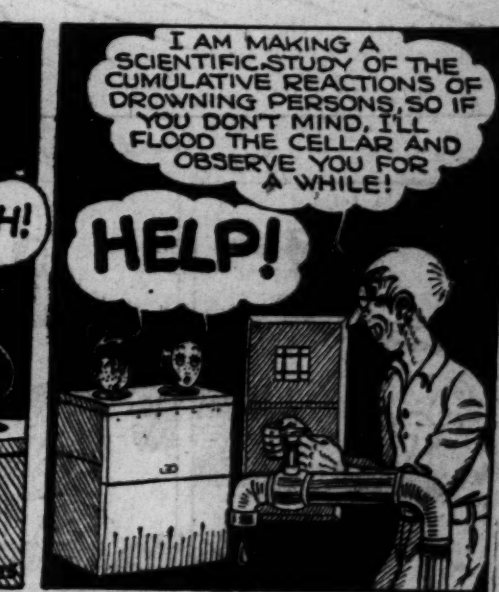

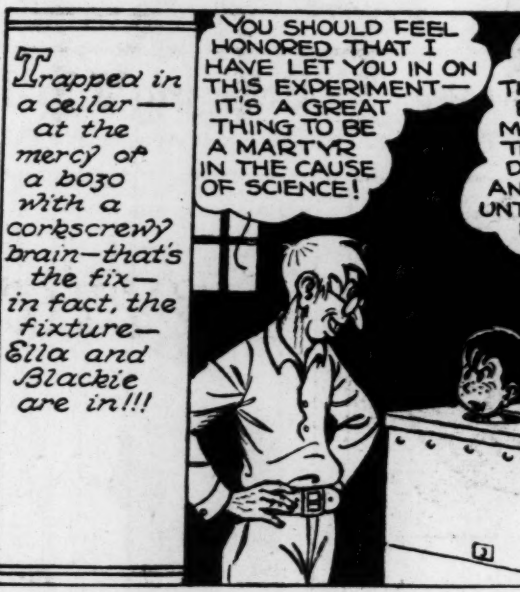

AT NOON, ON SEPTEMBER 22, ALL THE MEMBERS OF THE CABINET MET WITH MR. LINCOLN AT THE WHITE HOUSE. HE FIRST PICKED UP A BOOK OF ARTEMUS WARD'S AND READ A FEW AMUSING PASSAGES FROM IT—MUCH TO THE DISGUST

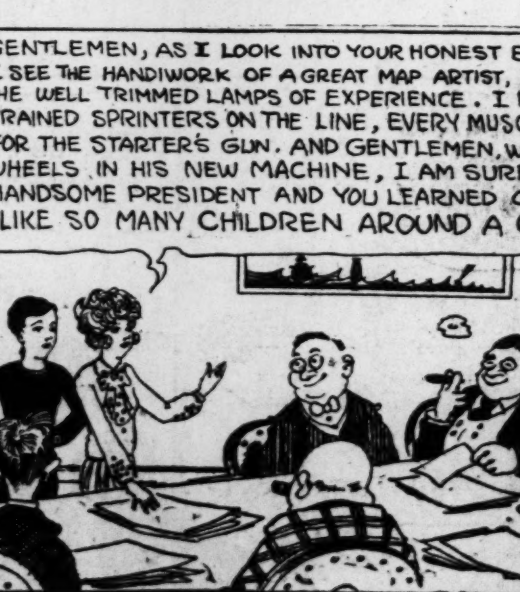

OF SECRETARIES CHASE AND STANTON. EVERYBODY ELSE LAUGHED. THEN, SERIOUSLY AND THOUGHTFULLY, HE READ TO HIS CABINET THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION, AND HANDED IT TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE TO BE PUBLISHED NEXT DAY.

DEBATE UPON BREAK WITH RUSSIA OPENS IN COMMONS

Government Accepts Laborite Proposal for Delay as a Motion for a Vote of Censure.

OPPOSITION LAYS STRESS ON TRADE

Clynes Says Breach Would Hurt Business — Lloyd George Declares Soviet Has Broken Faith.

The Associated Press. LONDON, May 23.—Debate opened before crowded galleries in the House of Commons today on the Government's proposal to break off relations with Soviet Russia, and the Government, through Foreign Secretary Chamberlain, declared the Labor motion, proposing further inquiry in the matter, was a motion for a vote of censure.

Austen declared the Government invited a clear extension of confidence and approval. If it did not obtain it the Government would know what steps it could be its duty to take. He declared there was not a word of truth in the suggestion that at Rome and Geneva he had endeavored to form an anti-soviet union. The British Government, he said, had no idea of embarking on any such anti-soviet campaign.

The Government, he continued, was content to rest upon the information it had disclosed. It thought necessary to produce any more of this information, and therefore undesirable. The Government had a mass of evidence to show that continuously, every quarter of the globe where elements of trouble existed, the Soviet Government had sought to take advantage of those elements to create unrest and great trouble, particularly where British interests would be affected.

The Soviet had done this not only in Great Britain and abroad, but in the Far East, where the Foreign Secretary continued, as a halfpenny paper had been played through the Chinese trouble by Soviet diplomacy and agents. The Soviet mission in Cheamham, he continued, had engaged in similar activities in breach of the treaty of commerce and consular privileges accorded. Both of these organizations were acting under the instructions and the spirit of a Government which was pursuing the same hostile policy in every part of the world against a Government with which it professed to be in friendly relations.

Russia "Incorrigible." The present British Government, he said, had pursued a policy of peace every part of the world and had cooperated with all who would cooperate with it. It had loyally supported the League of Nations and added to its authority and strength. At Locarno it had set itself with the other powers to approve the feuds of yesterday and tried to lay the basis for reconciliation. Only one Government had refused to co-operate. It had not only looked askance at this work of reconciliation and pacification, but had sought to hinder it. It was a Government as hostile to the League of Nations and all it stood for as it was to that other great enemy of nations—the British Empire.
